have enrolled as volunteers and it was expected that the full quota of 120 men would be obtained before Sept. 1.

TAFT TO HEAD COURT

DAVIS COMPLETES HIS CABINET

Taber and Riegel Last Members To Be Named

REORGANIZATION FINISHED

Eight Men Chosen to Direct Affairs of State

COLUMBUS, O.—Governor Davis today completed his cabinet of eight under the reorganization of state government which becomes effective Friday, in announcing the appointment of L. J. Taber, Barnesville, master of the state grange, as director of agriculture, and Vernon M.
Riegel, state superintendent of public instruction, as director of education.

The cabinet will consist of:
Floyd B. Waite, Cleveland, director of finance.
Rev. Dr. Howard S. Macayear, Akron, director of public welfare.
Dr. Harry H. Snively, Columbus, director of health.
William H. Phipps, Paulding, director of commerce.
Percy Tietlow, Salem, director of industrial relations.
Leon C. Herrick, Norwalk, director of highways and public works.
Louis J. Taber, Barnesville, director of agriculture.
Vernon M. Riegel, Columbus, director of education.

TABER'S WORK
Taber will have in charge all the work of the present board of agriculture, the secretary of agriculture, the agricultural advisory board and related activities.
In the department of education,
Director Riegel will have under him
the state examining boards, film censorship, state geology division, state library board and a new board of vocational education, and have a part in the work of the Kent State Normal School, Bowling Green State Normal College, Wilberforce University, Ohio Archaeological and Historical Society, and the Ohio State University.

For seven years, Mr. Taber has been master of the state grange, and for the last fifteen years connected with the grange in official capacities.
He has lived at Barnesville since he was six years of age. He has specialized in dairy farming, and recently was awarded four gold medals for highest production by members of his herd. During his administration the membership of the grange increased from twenty-seven thousand to one hundred and five thousand.

Mr. Taber is 43 years of age. He is an officer of the Ohio Farm Producer's league and connected with dairy and commodity organizations.

RIEGEL YOUNGEST
Mr. Riegel will be the youngest member of the cabinet. He is 33 years of age. In addition to being a teacher, he also is a lawyer, having been admitted in this state.

He taught in rural schools, was superintendent of township and village schools and then became superintendent of schools of Marion county.
Following this, he was a member of the Texas East State Normal School.
He was appointed assistant state superintendent of public instruction in 1917, and was promoted to the superintendency last year.

Mr. Riegel is a Democrat, but his appointment as superintendent of public instruction is a constitutional one, consequently Governor Davis had to retain him. He has about three years yet to serve, his term being for four years.

WOMEN MAY RULE OVER NOTED WESTERN COUNTRY

JACKSON, Wyo.—Government by the fair sex, initiated here a little over a year ago, may be extended to all of the famed Jackson's Hole-co, one time rendezvous for bandits.
Returns compiled today of Saturday's special election show that the proposed division of Lincoln-co carried by seven hundred majority and that Jackson has been chosen county seat for the newly created Teton-co.

With Jackson under a women's administration and with no other town of importance in the new county, the women are preparing to elect a sheriff and other county officers.

SUNDAY'S VIEW

NORTON, Va.—(By United Press)—The time to have opposed the Dempsey-Carpentier fight was before Rickard had spent a barrel of money erecting an arena William (Billy) Sunday said here today.
"I do not favor prize fights but it has been known for months that this bout was scheduled to take place, the time to have opposed it was before Tex Rickard had spent a barrel of money erecting the prize ring.
Now that the scrap is to come off
I hope Jack wins because Carpentier is a foreigner and Jack is an American. In my opinion a prize fight on Saturday is not as bad as a baseball game on Sunday."

VETERAN OF 3 WARS LIVES IN MANSFIELD

MANSFIELD.—Mansfield boasts of a veteran of three wars.
He is Sergeant August Kurbad, 77 years old. Born in Hanover, Germany, he came to this country when a boy and at the age of 17 years, when the civil war broke out joined Griffin's field artillery, being discharged from that service at the close of the war.
Later Kurbad again joined the army and served in the quartermaster's department during the Spanish-American war. During the World War he served with West Point service detachment and was recently discharged, having served 32 years altogether in the United States army.

LADY CHURCHILL DIES FOLLOWING OPERATION

LONDON.—(By United Press)— Lady Randolph Churchill died here today.
Lady Randolph Churchill recently submitted to an operation in which her foot was amputated. She had not recovered her normal health.
She was a daughter of Leonard Jerome of New York, and sister of Clare Jerome, who also contracted a English marriage.

HATRED OF MATE DEFENSE PLEA

Kaber Counsel Will Attempt To Prove Insane Aversion

'BAD HABITS' ARE MENTIONED

Women Accepted As Jurors In Famous Murder Trial.

CLEVELAND.—(By United Press)—Insane hatred brought about by practices of her husband which she claims were objectionable to her is the defense by which attorneys hope to save Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber from the electric chair in the murder of her husband, Daniel F. Kaber, wealthy Lakewood,
Ohio, publisher.

This defense, unique in the annals of murder trials, was announced by her attorneys today, the second day of Mrs. Kaber's trial.
Since her arrest, Mrs. Kaber has talked of "bad habits" possessed by her husband.

Mrs. Emma Calvoito, also under first degree murder indictment in connection with the Kaber murder and charged with supplying poison and later assassinating when the poison failed, says in her confession she supplied Mrs. Kaber with medicine with which to cure Kaber of these alleged bad habits.

The state charges that this medicine was deadly poison.
Into the stories told by Mrs. Mary Brickel, mother of Mrs. Kaber and Miss Marian McArdle, her daughter, both also indicted in the murder have crept hints of these habits.

Meantime, the state is prepared to determine the defense of Mrs.
Kaber, even before her attorneys have an opportunity to enter a plea of insane aversion. The state will call among its first witnesses, seven medical experts who are expected to testify that Mrs. Kaber was not then nor is now afflicted by any temporary mental disorder that might be termed insane hatred.

CLEVELAND.—(By Associated Press)—Despite efforts of counsel for Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, on trial for the murder of her husband, Daniel F. Kaber, to keep her women off the jury, three more women were tentatively accepted today.
They were Mrs. Rose Oliver, Mrs.
Clara Brackett and Mrs. Elsa Fish.
Mrs. Cora K. Burg was accepted tentatively yesterday. Three men also have been tentatively accepted.

Mrs. Kaber today showed effects of the strain of her first day in court. She appeared greatly fatigued.
Her counsel said she had already collapsed yesterday evening when returned to her cell, but that she had slept fairly well and ate a fairly good breakfast. She was dressed the same today as yesterday and assumed the identical posture which she maintained all yesterday.

COURT MAY ADJOURN
There was a possibility today of court being compelled to adjourn
this evening until next Tuesday, July 5, because of the venire of prospective jurors being exhausted.
There were only 29 available when court convened today.

A special venire of sixty prospective jurors are to report tomorrow, but Mrs. Kaber's counsel have formally notified the court they will remand the statutory three days time in which to examine the venire.
Regardless of the jury situation which may cause delay, Judge Ber-non stated today that he would not hold court tomorrow morning, that he and attorneys may attend the funeral of Judge Martin A. Foran, dean of the Cleveland bar.

Only sixteen veniremen were left when court convened after the noon recess and these are expected to be exhausted by evening. If the venire is exhausted this afternoon, Judge Bernon said that court will be adjourned until next Tuesday.

Should adjournment be taken this evening, tomorrow morning, counsel for both the state and defense predict that the jury will not be completed and the taking of testimony begun until the middle of next week.

WARREN.—The largest attendance in the history of the Young People's Ohio Branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union is attending the ninth annual convention in session here. Delegates representing every county in the state are coming in hourly and the sessions are destined to mark a big program of work for the coming year. A great campaign for membership is being outlined and many field workers will be appointed.

On Wednesday evening Dr. J.
W. Holland, Toledo, will be the speaker, and tomorrow night Hon.
John F. Kramer, Mansfield, ex-prohibition commissioner, will deliver an address.

Trips will be made to the National McKinley Birthplace Memorial in Niles between sessions.
Election of officers will take place tomorrow morning.

MOONSHINER SHOT
YOUNGSTOWN.—John Stiner, of East Youngstown, was shot twice and perhaps fatally injured by Deputy Constable Charles Smith this morning. Smith said that Stiner attempted to escape after being arrested for selling moonshine liquor to Smith and Constable W. W. Cuzl.

SHATTERED IDOLS GO ON TRIAL

Baseball's Fallen Men Face
Charge of Selling Out

FANS THROG COURT ROOM

"No Balke" Judge Tells Lawyers
When Case Opens.

(By CARL VICTOR LITTLE.)
CHICAGO.—(By United Press)— Baseball's shattered idols went on trial today. Seven of the eight former White Sox stars, charged with selling out the 1919 world series with the Cincinnati Reds, faced an array of prosecutors. Four alleged gamblers were also on trial.

Baseball fans, many of them
"kids" who thought the world all wrong when their heroes were indicted and ruled forever off the diamond, thronged Judge Hugo Friend's court.

Judge Friend announced at the opening of the court that no "balke" from either side would be countenanced. "These trials have been delayed long enough," he said.

Thomas Aherm, who with James C. (Ropes) O'Brien, is attorney for the indicted players, moved immediately that the cases be ruled out of court.

"These men are not guilty of an offense under the law," he said.
"There is no law that requires a ball player to play to the best of his ability, any more than there is a law requiring working men to work their best."

Furthermore, the records show these men played better ball in Cincinnati in 1919 than they ever played before.

Judge Friend overruled the motion, but reserved the right to change his ruling pending filing of briefs by both sides.

The judge, after swearing in a venire of jurors, continued the case until Tuesday.

The state announced these witnesses would be called:
Ban Johnson, president of the American League; John Heydler, National League president; Charles Comiskey, White Sox owner; Harry Herrman, Cincinnati Reds owner;
Eddie Collins, John Collins and Ray Schalk, ball players; Joe Resch, and Harry Redman, St. Louis.

The names of Judge K. M. Landis, supreme ruler of baseball since the scandal was on the list but penciled out.

The ball players who were in court were:
Eddie Cicotte and Claude Williams, pitchers; Joe Jackson, Happy Felsch, outfielders; "Chick Gandil," "Buck" Weaver, and "Sweeds" Risberg, infielders.

Attorneys for Fred McMullin, former White Sox star, told the court that McMullin was working as a sign painter out on the coast and did not have enough money to come to Chicago for trial.

Charles Zork, alleged gambler of St. Louis, whose illness delayed the trial Monday, was in court today.
Ben Franklin, also an alleged St.
Louis gambler, was still missing because of illness.

He will have a separate trial in September.
Other alleged "go-betweens" and alleged gamblers who were in court were Ben and Louis Levi and David Zelsterm, of Des Moines, Iowa.

Abe Attell, former featherweight champion, who was indicted and charged with being the "master mind" of the conspiracy to throw the series, won his fight against extradition. Neither was "Sport" Sullivan, Boston, Baseball Brown,
New York, and Hal Chase, former Cub player, present. They were not located.

MRS. HARDING DONATES CUP FOR HORSE SHOW

MARION.—A silver cup has been donated by Mrs. Warren G. Harding for five-gaited saddlers in the horse show and Independence Day celebration here July 4.
The celebration is being staged by the local chapter of the American Legion. It is expected that entries from other states will be made for the Harding cup.

BANKER TO ATTEND HEARING

Defense Calls Many Witnesses To Refute Testimony

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.—(By United Press)—Two hundred questions are ready to be presented to James A. Stillman, when he appears tomorrow at the secret hearings in his suit for divorce, John E. Mack said shortly before the hearings were resumed here today.

The questions, according to Mack, guardian for Baby Guy Stillman, whose legitimacy the banker questions, will bear on Stillman's alleged relations with Mrs. Florence L.
Leeds, the other woman.

STILLMAN TO APPEAR
Stillman is understood to be ready to present himself voluntarily if process servers fail to reach him with a subpoena returnable today, directing him to appear for examination.

The first witness today was expected to be Miss Isabella Armstrong, nurse who was brought from San Diego, Calif., to testify regarding Stillman's non-accessibility in connection with the question of Guy's legitimacy.

MANY WITNESSES
Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Lalor, former nurse at the Pleasantville estate were to testify along similar lines.
It is understood the defense will have about 50 witnesses, several of whom will be used to refute "keyhole and ladder" testimony. One of these will testify that he removed the ladder alleged to have been used by a former witness to "peek" on Mrs. Stillman and Fred Beauvais, co-respondent at the Stillman Canadian estate. This witness will declare the only ladder around the place was removed from the vicinity of the house about four weeks before the Stillmans arrived.

The hearing began at 11 a. m.
Mrs. Stillman accompanied Attorney Mack to the court room. Abel
I. Smith and John Brennan were present as attorneys for Mrs. Stillman.

Cornelius Sullivan, Stillman's attorney, arrived late and it was whispered about the court room that he had been in conference with James
A. Stillman, who is said to be near Poughkeepsie. Stillman's other attorneys present were Outerbridge Horsely and William Rand.

PLANS FOR PEACE MEET REVERSE

Ulster Premier Declines Invi- tation for Conference.

BELFAST, Ireland.—(By Associated Press)—Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, declined today the invitation extended him by Eamonn De Valera, the Irish republican leader, to meet De Valera in Dublin. The invitation was contained in a letter reorganizing of the flying squadron of prohibition detectives to cover the entire United States under his personal direction.

At the same time, Haynes announced, he plans to completely reorganize the entire prohibition enforcement unit.

Reorganization will accomplish a saving of at least $100,000 a year in salaries alone, Haynes said as well as making the entire enforcement problem simpler and easier to cope with.

Haynes first step, he said, will be to abolish the dual plan under which the Volstead law now is enforced. Under this plan, revised by John F. Kramer, former prohibition commissioner, the country was divided into 12 departments with a general enforcement officer in each.
In addition, there was a prohibition director in each state.

Under Haynes' new plan the departments will be abolished and the entire enforcement will be based on the state as a unit with a federal prohibition director in each state.

WORRY CAUSES SUICIDE.
LORAIN, O.—Worried because of the rapid decline in the prices of farm products, which seemed to spell financial ruin for him, Roscoe E.
Griffith, owner of a 200 acre farm near Mayville, Ky., and the father of seven young children, today killed himself with a shotgun at the home of a brother here.

HARDING WILL ANNOUNCE HIS DECISION SOON

President Expected to Make Appointment Before Leaving on Vacation Tomorrow—Sutherland Is Favorvored for Future Vacancies on Supreme Bench.

WASHINGTON.—(By United Press)—Announcement of the appointment of William Howard Taft to be chief justice of the United States supreme court probably will be made shortly, it was learned today.

President Harding, it is said, has practically decided on the appointment of Taft and unless there is some hitch, he plans to announce his appointment tomorrow, just before leaving here for a week-end vacation in New Jersey.

The supreme court does not meet until October 1. Harding could postpone an appointment until that time. The appointment now, however, would give Taft time to fami-lize himself with the work of the court.

If another vacancy occurs on the supreme court, former Senator Sutherland, of Utah, it is believed, would be favorably considered.

CLOSER UNION OF PEOPLE URGED

Secretary of Labor Davis Appeals For Fraternalism

Spreading of Good Feeling in Industrial World, His Plan.

TOLEDO.—(By United Press)— Appealing for a spirit of fraternalism that will bind the people of the United States in closer harmony and erase the depression of the times, James J. Davis, director-general of the Loyal Order of Moose and secretary of labor in the Harding cabinet, made the keynote speech of the international convention of the order at the Wednesday session of the convention.

"The chief policy I have always upheld in mind for the department of labor is the spreading of fraternalism in the industrial world, the spreading of good feeling between employer, employee and the public," he said.

WORLD NEEDS SOUL
"A human being without a soul is a machine and the world needs today, as the president says, democracy and a soul. It is my business as the department of labor, to provide that soul for democracy."

"After all, the only enemies of employers and employees in America are themselves. If they want prosperity, they have only to look for it in the same place, in themselves.
Let them only be friends and most of their ills will disappear."

"If we suffer today, it is from one great need—the return to the old religious beliefs and the Golden Rule.
I believe the spirit of fraternalism is spreading. When I see every day, one group of American workmen after another quietly and sensibly accepting a lowered wage, when I see employers running their factories, sometimes at a personal loss, in order to keep the wheels of industry moving and cut down unemployment, I have a new faith in the ability of the American people to lift themselves from the slough of dependency into a new prosperity."

COLLINS IN RACE

Lima Man Mentioned as Head of Teachers' Association.

SANDUSKY.—(By Associated Press)—A woman, Miss Bertha Ruess, Mansfield high school teacher, today was said to have a good chance of becoming president of the Ohio State Teachers' Association, in annual convention at Cedar Point.
The presidential race was the big order of business today.

W. H. Kirke of Cleveland is a strong contender for the executive job also. Other names being mentioned include S. J. Keiter, of Bellefontaine, Superintendent J. E. Collins, Lima, and Professor John L.
Clifton, of Columbus. Polls will close this evening.

The executive committee reported that honored life memberships have been granted to Dr. W. O. Thompson,

BILLION INTEREST IS DUE U. S.

Secretary Mellon Asks for Broad Power to Settle Debts.

NATIONS OWE 10 BILLIONS

Preliminary Negotiations Have Been Started With England.

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — More than one billion dollars is due the United States as interest on money loaned to foreign governments, Secretary Mellon today told the senate finance committee.

A total of $461,736,000 in interest has been paid on the more than $10,000,000,000 loaned to other nations, he said, while repayment on the principal up to June 12, total $362,293,000.

Mellon appeared before the committee to explain the need of the administration's bill giving sweeping powers in the settlement of the allied debts.

Mellon said board authority is needed to get foreign obligations into such shape as will eliminate all trouble in the future as to their collection and all doubt as to the legality of the claims of the United States.

Negotiations started Preliminary negotiations with Great Britain have been held regarding final payment of principal and interest, he said.

"Has any suggestion been made that we accept German bonds in exchange for the debts owed us by some other nations?" asked Senator Simmons, North Carolina.

"Not to my knowledge," said Mellon.

Committee members pressed Mellon, insisting that the language of the bill made it possible for the United States to take British and French bonds in payment for the French and British debts.

"Would you object to a provision eliminating German bonds from this authority?" asked Senator Walsh, Massachusetts.

"It is not for me to object to what ever Congress wants to do," Mellon replied.

REJECT WAGE CUT

Union Officials Will Endeavor to Prevent Strike.

CHICAGO — (By United Press) — Railroad sheet metal workers meeting here have rejected the 12 per cent wage cut made effective July 1 by the United States railroad labor board, according to unofficial advice here today.

Tabulation of the vote of 20,000 members shows that the majority are in favor of rejecting the wage cut, according to reliable sources.

The sheet metal workers have thus joined the 600,000 members of the shops crafts affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, who have voted down the cut.

Union leaders who are known to be opposed to the idea of a strike at this time, face a mammoth task in holding the membership of the organizations in line, according to views in rail circles here today.

It is expected that a post-vote effort by union leaders to get the men to accept the reduction will be made.

SCHEDULES FOR BASE BALL TOURNEY ARRANGED

Schedules for the Class A baseball tournament of south and west Lima, in which are entered twelve boys teams, were announced Wednesday by Director Wallace, who is handling the tournament.

Seven playing days will decide the champions. Losing teams are to be put into a second class. They will, however, be allowed to remain in the race for the highest honors. A trophy will be presented to the championship team.

Captains of teams are urged to get in touch with Mr. Wallace at the office of the Child Welfare association in Memorial hall, or by calling Main 5592.

THIRD TRIAL SET CINCINNATI—The third trial of Walter Brockman, who is charged with first degree murder in connection with the killing of Harlan Brate, Brockland high school boy, was set today for August 15. The juries in Brockman's two previous trials failed to agree.

WEATHER

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — Thunder showers will fall in many parts of the territory east of the Mississippi this afternoon, tonight and tomorrow, but there will be little change in temperature, the weather bureau stated today.

Local showers were forecast for the Atlantic states, Tennessee, the east Gulf states, New England and southern states.

HARPER ROBBERY TRIAL BEGUN

Charged With Relieving W. O. Pence of $280.

Trial of the case of State of Ohio against Clyde Harper, E. North-st., indicted for robbery, was begun Wednesday before Judge F. C. Becker and a jury in common pleas court.

Harper is charged with extorting $280 in twenty-dollar bills from the pocket of W. O. Pence, Osceola, according to Pence's testimony.

On the witness stand Pence told of drinking of a visit to Ruth Boyer's place on N. Elizabeth-st. and back to the Manhattan hotel, where Pence sought to engage in a crap game. When he reached for his pocket-book, the bills were missing.

Harper was with him all night, Pence said, and he ordered his arrest, charging that Harper had robbed him.

Mrs. Ruth Boyer, on the witness stand, testified that when Harper came to her place he gave her four hundred $20 bills to keep for him, saying he was drinking and might lose.

Mrs. Boyer said she later heard from Pence's home. She accompanied two police officers to the Harper home, she said, to identify the property.

The same number of bills and of the same denomination was missing from Pence's pocket-book, he testified. The jury will take the case for deliberation late Wednesday.

INJUNCTION ASKED AGAINST ROUSH

Sturtevant-Jones Co. Seeks to Prevent Disposal of Auto.

Appointment of new appraisers by common pleas court to re-assess the marketable value of the Marmon car in possession of Raleigh Ross Townsend, dead member of the McGahan-Townsend bandit gang, is asked in an appeal filed in common pleas court Wednesday by the Sturtevant-Jones company.

An injunction is also asked, preventing Chief of Police Roush, who is now in possession of the car, from using the automobile, selling, disposing or encumbering it until the termination of the suit.

Judge F. C. Becker has not designated a time for hearing arguments for an injunction. Damages in the sum of $300 are also asked, the Sturtevant-Jones company getting forth they are losing $10 a day by not being in possession of the automobile.

The petition sets forth the car was stolen from Toledo on Friday, May 20 and that it came into the possession of Roy E. Bowersock as agent of Townsend.

Townsend was shot on May 21 here, in a gun battle with police. Bowersock placed it with Roush for safe keeping.

The petition states that the real value of the car is $4,200, that Roush secured it after replevin proceedings in Justice W. H. Guyton's court, by giving a re-deposit bond of but $1,500. The Sturtevant-Jones company says bond is too small and asks increase.

PLAN FOR COURT HOUSE IMPROVEMENTS READY

Plans for improvement of the Allen-co court house are ready, according to an announcement Wednesday by Architect Frank M. Leach.

Architect Leach has not, however, completed his estimate of the cost of the improvements. He said he hoped to do so by Thursday or Friday of this week.

County commissioners will then determine whether or not improvements can be made. There are no funds and the problem with commissioners will be to find the money to take care of the improvements, which are an acknowledged need at the court house.

TOLEDO MURDERER TO DIE THURSDAY NIGHT

COLUMBUS — Royce Richardson, colored, convicted Toledo murderer, will die at the state penitentiary here tomorrow night unless Governor Davis intervenes.

A delegation from Toledo was to call at the governor's office late today in a final effort to save Richardson from the electric chair. Governor Davis, however, was not expected to return to Columbus until late tomorrow.

HEROES TO SELECT RECRUITS SOUGHT HEADQUARTERS FOR CAMP KNOX

Disabled Veterans Will Choose Free Military Training Offered To Lima Men.

OMAHA MAY BE NAMED

Soldiers Meet For First Time Since War.

DETROIT, Mich. — (By Associated Press) — Selection of a national headquarters city, adoption of a constitution and action on numerous resolutions were on today's program of the convention of the American Disabled Veterans of the World War.

The seven hundred delegates to the convention bear wounds of war or have hospital records. Included among the delegates are several women, former Red Cross nurses who suffered from influenza or nervous breakdowns as the result of overwork on the western front.

A large percentage of the delegates are guests of the people of Detroit during the convention, being entertained in homes here. Some are in homes that lost one or more sons during the war.

Among the outstanding figures at the convention are two men blinded in the war, Harry Aaronson, Hebrew divinity student, and Curtis S. Williams, both of Cincinnati. The former is acting as chaplain at all sessions and Williams leads in singing. Williams, a former civil engineer, adopted the vocation of a singer as a result of his blindness. Aaronson was to speak before the convention today on "Victory Over Blindness."

Many delegates to the convention have met here for the first time since they parted in France. One of the most notable instances of this kind was the meeting of Judge Robert S. Marx of Cincinnati, national president, and Captain Fred E. Lester of Denver. Judge Marx and Captain Lester, who had been wounded from the field in the Argonne the night before the armistice was signed. Within an hour Judge Marx himself had been wounded.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

Ohio Spanish War Veterans Hold Election At Encampment.

LORAIN, O. — (By Associated Press) — John G. De Camp, of Hamilton, Ohio, was elected department commander of the Ohio United Spanish War Veterans who closed their annual encampment here today.

Other officers chosen were: J. E. Farling, Findlay, senior vice commander; C. D. Reuger, Lorain, junior vice commander; Rev. Samuel Griffith, Dayton, chaplain; J. W. Gaeton, Dayton, marshal; W. T. Tucker, Canton, chief of staff; E. K. Filbert, Hamilton, adjutant; and Phillip McPherson, Toledo, Frank Noll, Cincinnati; Stanley New, Nelsonville, and R. H. Carroll, Cleveland, delegates to the national convention.

Hamilton was chosen as the city for the 1922 convention.

PLAN ENFORCING NEW OHIO LIGHTING LAW

COLUMBUS — Steps to put in force the new state law regulating lights on motor vehicles were considered today by a committee appointed to interest in measure and make recommendations.

The committee, appointed by L. C. Herrick, selected as director of highways and public works included F. C. Caldwell, state engineering experiment station, Police Chief French, of Columbus and William J. Meyer, of the attorney general's staff.

The law requires that no head lights be used except after installation of a device to prevent glare and governs the lights on city and country roads.

CITY WORK TO PROVIDE EMPLOYMENT FOR LABOR

The letting of contracts for sewers in eight streets Wednesday will provide employment for a number of idle laborers, as the work contemplated must be pushed to an early completion. This will necessitate running several crews, city officials state.

Foley & Morarity and Dick & Plock, contractors, state that they intend beginning operations at once.

MANY WITNESSES IN SMITH CASE

29 Summoned by the City, Including Two Women.

Twenty-nine witnesses are being summoned by the city to testify against Earl W. Smith, proprietor of the Arcade cigar store on E. Market-st., who is awaiting trial in police court on a charge of whiskey running.

Smith's trial was set for July 6 before Judge Emmett J. Jackson. Dan Staples, 1310 W. Market-st. and Harley Arnold, 873 N. McDonel-st., arraigned on similar charges will also be given a trial on July 6, authorities announced late Tuesday afternoon.

The list of witnesses being summoned by police for the city includes the names of several prominent men. Police are endeavoring to spread a net which the three alleged whiskey runners will not be able to get through. However, none of the accused men appear worried to any great extent. Both Arnold and Smith have been frequent visitors to the court room, where they sat around and gossiped.

SEPARATE WAGE PACT ILLEGAL

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press) — Two separate agreements on wages or working conditions can be made by any group of railroad employees in a particular office or shop, apart from the agreement made with that class of employees as a whole over the entire system, according to a ruling of the railroad labor board today.

The decision was issued in the case of clerks in general offices on several railroads who wish to negotiate separate agreements with the road, distinct from the agreement made between the road and the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees.

The board stated its opinion, however, that the personal office force of officials in general offices could be placed on an exempted list not included in the general agreement. Under a code of rules to govern all negotiations recently promulgated by the board, one principle stated that the majority of any craft or class of employees should have the right to negotiate, for all employees of that craft. Today's ruling decided that this principle applied to the entire craft or class over an entire railroad system and could not be interpreted to mean a majority at any particular point on the line.

1,000 AT MEETING

Ohio Sunday School Convention Gets Under Way.

COLUMBUS — More than one thousand registered today at the opening of sessions of the sixty-second convention of the Ohio Sunday School Association. Eight hundred members were in attendance yesterday at a conference and various executive board meetings.

This evening, "The Light of the World," a pretentious pageant, will be presented under the direction of Professor H. Augustine Smith.

"Religious Education," was discussed this morning. Speakers included Dr. Frank L. Brown, of Brooklyn, general secretary of the World Sunday-School Association; Mrs. A. W. Karmel, of Philadelphia; Professor Smith, and Dr. Walter G. Clippinger, Westerville.

Other items on today's program include children's division conference, Young People's Conference; adult education conference, church school secretaries conference, college conference and a banquet for county and township Young People's Associations.

COLORADO GIRL HEADS CLASS IN INTELLIGENCE AT SIMMONS COLLEGE

BOSTON — Miss Constance Bouck, of Leadville, Colo., a freshman at Simmons College, is announced head of her class in general intelligence. The decision was reached thru the application of mentality tests originated by Dr. A. A. Roback, instructor in psychology at Harvard University and at Simmons.

"One of the most interesting of the test questions is the Problems Test, designed to gauge capacity to grapple with a practical situation. One of the problems, for example, asks 'If you were on the seventh floor of a department store in a hurry to get to the ground floor and two elevators came at the same time, one attracting a large crowd and the other only two passengers, which would you take and why?' The person of under-average and some of average intelligence answer at once. 'The elevator with two passengers, because it is easier to get in and out of.' It takes the superior intelligence to reason that the full car will in all probability express to the ground floor, whereas the almost empty one would stop on the way down at each floor to take on more passengers.

"There were ten others besides the Relations and the Problems Tests to be answered inside of three hours.

The six highest scores were obtained by American girls of American parentage," it was added.

POSTAL EMPLOYEES TO HAVE HOLIDAY ON 4th

Monday, July 4th, will be a holiday at the Lima postoffice. There will be no deliveries by the city, rural or parcel post carriers. The mails will be made up and dispatched as usual, however. WILL RETURN TO SERVE PRISON SENTENCE: ATTORNEY SAYS.

CHICAGO — (By United Press) — "Big Boy" Haywood, leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, will return to the United States to serve 20 years in Leavenworth prison.

District Attorney Charles F. Clynne received this word from Haywood, who is now in Russia, today.

"KEEP OFF THE GRASS" SIGNS GONE FROM PARK

Large blueprints under glass showing the points of interest in Faurst park will replace the old signs which commanded the visitor to "keep off the grass."

The new signs will all be in place by Thursday. Service director Elmer McClain stated, as the old signs will be removed. Each blue print will state that the park belongs to the people and ask them to care for it.

MARRIED ONLY A FEW WEEKS, ASKS DIVORCE

Less than two months after marriage, Mrs. Mary Hoke is seeking a divorce in common pleas court from her husband, William Hoke. The petition says that all of her married life her husband threatened her bodily injury.

The marriage took place in Columbus. The petitioner was Mary Davis before her marriage. She says her husband is now confined in the Franklin-co jail where he is serving time for committing a crime.

MILLER TO RETURN AS MANAGER

Platform Superintendent of 1920 Chautauqua Here

"With a prospect of over selling our guarantee by a couple hundred tickets now in evidence and with a program that is meeting with much success over the Colt-Alber circuit so far this year, I think that the Lima Chautauqua association's annual 'seven joyous days' will be the most successful we have ever experienced." This is the optimism displayed by L. E. Ludwig, secretary of the local chautauqua association, on this year's seven day program that opens Saturday, on the Baxter Homestead grounds on W. Elm-st.

The Baltimore Society orchestra, playing a group of classical and popular numbers, will open the Saturday afternoon session. They also play a concert in the evening preceding Dr. Lincoln McConnell's lecture, "Stay Awake America." There will be no Sunday program furnished by the Colt-Alber people, but an afternoon religious service will be held in the chautauqua tent. The Rev. Warren L. Stevens, pastor of the First Baptist church, will deliver the address.

Much optimism was in evidence at the meeting of the guarantors of the Lima Chautauqua association, held Tuesday night in Trinity church. Some fifty backers of this year's seven joyous days were in attendance. Talks by I. R. Longworth, president of the local association and by L. E. Ludwig, secretary were features of the program. John A. Kennedy, advance superintendent for the Colt-Alber people, gave an explanation of the program. W. N. Gillis, the star ticket seller of the association, who has a record of 54 season pastebards sold, told of his method of disposing of the admittance cards.

Announcement was made at Tuesday evening's meeting that E. W. Miller, who was platform manager here last year, will again have charge this year.

REPRESENTATIVES OF WELFARE BODIES TO SIT IN GAS PARLEY

Invitations were issued Wednesday by officers of the East and South Side Welfare associations to attend a conference between officials of the Lima and Medina natural gas companies and city council, July 7.

Two officials from each organization will attend and sit in with members of the Chamber of Commerce gas committee.

Whether the parley will be held during the afternoon or evening has not been determined, but will depend upon the hour Holten H. Scott reaches this city from the east. No further word has been had from him save that he has given assurances of his coming.

ALLEN COUNTIANS AID GOOD ROAD IMPROVEMENT

Altho the Ohio Good Roads federation has spent time and money in Allen-co to promote road improvement, no effort has been made heretofore to "make up the county's quota." The Chamber of Commerce, Allen-co roads council is however making up the $250 asked and expects to go over the top soon.

Memberships ranging in price from $25 to $50 have been taken by the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis club, Lions, Spencerville Progressive Association and Allen-co Farm Bureau. Other organizations are expected to get in line.

BOY SLIPS, BREAKS LEG

Delphos Men Purchase Garage at Gomer.

DELPHOS—(Special)—A six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivin Phillips, east of here, early Monday morning walked two miles in her sleep from the home of her parents, to the home of her grandmother.

Myron Wagner, four year old son of Mrs. Margaret Wagner of this city, slipped on a wet sidewalk here Tuesday, suffering a broken leg.

George Limbach of Delphos was married Tuesday to Miss Helen Steiger of Toledo. The wedding ceremony was held in Toledo.

Orders have been issued by the service director and the city health commissioner to owners of lots in this city to cut weed growth at once, as a measure in the interest of the public health.

The treasurer of Van Wert-co, at the Commercial Bank here, collected $5,800 taxes on Tuesday, despite the fact that farmers are unusually busy just at this time.

Wendell and Everett Davis of this city have purchased the Kiracoffe garage at Gomer and have taken charge of the place.

At a meeting of Lima Presbytery, held at the Market-st. Presbyterian church in Lima Monday, Rev. George H. Gibson, pastor of the church here, was by unanimous vote elected Moderator.

Local stockholders in the Bengrove Oil company, owners of leases in the Texas field, have been informed that their first well is near completion.

A large contingent of Delphos people attended the funeral of Luther Evans, a prominent and popular young business man of Venedocia.

ECCENTRIC HERMIT HAS MADE HOME NEAR NORTH BALTIMORE FOR 20 YEARS

NORTH BALTIMORE, O. — Hermiting may not be a lucrative occupation but it has advantages.

Take the word of John Seeman, who has tried it for more than 20 years. He established his "hermitage" here shortly after coming to this country from Prussia to escape from compulsory military service.

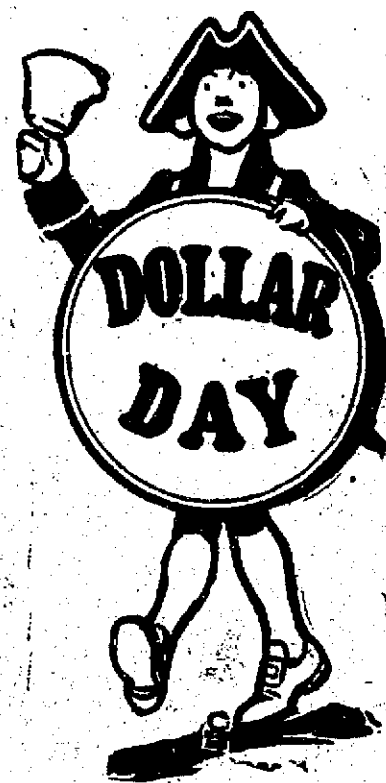

He has a small shack, rudely constructed of packing boxes and such timber as he has been able to pick up in the woods. The shack is about seven feet high, nine feet long and six feet wide. The roof is covered with tin. His furniture and household equipment are scanty. What money he gets for replenishing his wardrobe he gets from the profits of his vegetables and strawberry beds. The merchants of the town donate to him much food.

Seeman wears a straw hat in the winter and a disreputable stocking cap when it is 90 in the shade.

AN UNUSUAL WINDOW DISPLAY AT FELDMAN'S

Believing that out-of-the-ordinary methods are necessary under present conditions, Feldman & Co., adopted a different mode of window decoration in announcing their semi-annual sale.

Instead of containing merchandise bearing price tags, the windows have been utilized to represent an outdoor scene, centering all attention on a huge sign board with the announcement thereon. As a result the windows are attracting considerable attention.

LAWYER OPPOSES WOMEN JURORS

Claims They Are Merciless in Criminal Cases

CHARGE DENIED BY EDITOR

Records Show That Men Are Not As Hard Hearted

(By MARGERY REX)

NEW YORK—(International News Service)—In our country there is a bold challenger—no, not Mr. George Carpentier, braver than that, even. While the Gallic Georges invites trouble with only one strong man, consider the temerity of E. M. Ballard, Cincinnati lawyer, who calls all women merciless. He declares he will have none of them on the jury which will pass upon the case of his client, Walter Brookman, charged with first degree murder.

"I challenged off all five women peremptorily," he said. "No, I don't mind stating my reasons. The record thus far in criminal cases has shown that women jurors always are for conviction."

"Women are merciless, much more so than men," he told the court. This from the state of Ohio, where sits the only woman judge in a criminal court, Florence Allen, first of her sex to serve in a court of general jurisdiction.

Judge Allen's own views on the woman juror were brought to our attention by Mrs. Raymond Brown, member of the New York State League of Women Voters, who has commented upon the opinion of the Ohio lawyer.

WOMAN JURIST'S VIEWS ON JURORS

"The best answer to this charge is contained in an article by Judge Allen in a recent number of the Woman Citizen," said Mrs. Brown, who is also managing director of that suffrage publication.

"She points out one phase of the woman jury question that is worth considering that it is difficult to get men of intelligence and education to serve on juries. They are absorbed in their business and try to make excuses."

"Such men feel they simply can't afford to give up their time to jury duty. But there is a large class of intelligent women who have the leisure for this service and they should be given the opportunity for it."

"Women are usually suspected of being too lenient on juries, and Judge Allen brings out these points in these paragraphs," Mrs. Brown said, quoting the article as follows:

"There has been some question whether the women jurors would not be too sympathetic and let criminals go scot-free or allow them undue leniency. This doubt certainly has not been borne out in my experience. John Azzarello was tried for first degree murder before me and found guilty; the only woman on the jury was steadfast for conviction. We have lately tried Frank Motto for first degree murder in my court. He was found guilty without a recommendation of mercy, which means that he received the death penalty. The foreman of the jury was a woman; in fact she was the only woman on the jury. From the first she demanded the death penalty for the murder, which was peculiarly womanly. The jury which has just given the death penalty to Purper, an accomplice of Motto, included four women."

Mrs. Brown then called our attention to the following:

"However, in the preliminary selection of jurors for these cases, many women were excused because they were opposed to capital punishment and would shrink from sending to the chair another mother's son. It is evident that generalizations cannot be made as to women jurors any more than as to men jurors, so far as leniency is concerned."

"Participation of women in jury service, both on the petit juries and the grand juries, make for intelligent interest in the courts. The community has not understood conditions in the past and because of that inefficiency, delay and injustice have crept into our judicial system. I am confident that the participation of women in jury service is an essential step toward the realization of that universal justice which is one of the noblest aspirations of our republic."

WOMAN EDITOR DE-NEES CHARGE

Miss Virginia Roderick, the new editor of The Woman Citizen, is rather skeptical of the Ohio lawyer's conclusions regarding the hard-heartedness of women in general.

"I don't think it's true," she said, "that women are always merciless on juries. I don't think they are very conscientious or intelligent in dealing with such serious matters."

"When the women of the United States received the vote last year the laws of Ohio made all electors eligible for jury service. Women should be made use of on juries because thereby the chance of getting a good jury are doubled."

FURLONG OBSEQUIES TO TAKE PLACE THURSDAY

Funeral services for William Samuel Furlong, who died Tuesday at the City hospital, will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of his mother, 139 Harrison-ave. The Rev. W. H. Howard, pastor of the First United Brethren church, will officiate. Interment will be in Shawnee cemetery.

ALLEN-CO FARMERS MAKE BIG SHIPMENT OF WOOL

Farmers of Allen-co were loading cars with wool at both Gouner and West Cairo Wednesday, to be consigned to the Ohio Sheep and Wool Growers' warehouse at Columbus and sold by them to the manufacturers. This is one of the last shipments of the season, practically all the wool having been sent in by the farmers immediately after it was clipped. The present shipment will total around 15,000 pounds.

FRYE OIL CO. TO DEVELOP FIELD

Major Emil Marx and Mary Eckert Married at St. Marys.

ST. MARYS — (Special) — Directors of the Frye Oil Co., Tuesday voted to proceed with the development of the St. Marys and Wayne-co Kentucky oil fields.

The vote of the directors calls for the drilling of a new well on the Elshawe sisters' farm near here.

Forty pheasant eggs were set Tuesday at the fish hatchery here. After they are hatched the pheasants will be turned loose, in an effort to spread the pheasant "crop" in this district.

Major Emil Marx and Miss Mary Eckert, both of St. Marys, were married here Tuesday. The ceremony was elaborate and was followed by a banquet. There were many army officer friends of Mr. Marx in attendance.

Charles Candler, home from an extended trip thru the south, reports that hundreds of acres of land lies fallow in North and South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee and Virginia. The land is uncultivated and one can travel for hundreds of miles and not see a barn. Natives state that the land is too poor to be worked.

WIFE NEGLECTS HOME, HUSBAND AND CHILD, DENVER STOTTS AVERS

Charges that she neglected her home and her son of twenty months for the companionship of lewd and dissolute persons, are contained in the divorce petition filed Wednesday by Denver Stotts, Columbus Grove, against his wife, Ocie M. Stotts, residing in the 400 block, Lake-st.

Stotts says upon several different occasions she deserted her home and child and that she left the baby to the entire care of his father when she refused some months ago to accompany him to the home he had prepared for her in Columbus Grove.

The couple were married on July 5, 1918, in Lima, and have but one child.

LIMA PHYSICIANS IN PRACTICE 50 YEARS HONORED BY COLLEAGUES

Three Lima physicians who have been practicing medicine for fifty years were the honor guests Tuesday night of the Allen-co Medical society at a banquet given in their honor at the Shawnee Country club.

They are Enos G. Burton, Jonathan B. Vall and Newton Sager, all members of the Allen-co Medical society.

Dr. W. E. Haver, Dr. Fred L. Bates and Dr. William Roush, were called upon by Dr. Charles H. Clark, president of the association, and toastmaster of the banquet, for addresses. Other toasts were given by Dr. F. G. Stueber, Dr. A. S. Rudy and Dr. P. I. Tussing.

Music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Grubb, Leona Foltz, Mrs. Gail Punifon and Andrew Diamond.

The fifty year record of the three Lima doctors is considered remarkable. All have practically had to learn their work during their period of practice, because of the late developments in the field of medicine.

BOYS GET AWAY WITH WHEELBARROWS AND HEN

Two unknown white boys, aged about 12 years, succeeded in stealing a fat hen and two wheelbarrows at the home of Mrs. Mary Jacobs, 612 Linden-st., early Wednesday morning. Although the police were apprised of the theft, no action was taken. Three small boys attempted to capture the youthful marauders by chasing them on bicycles.

The kids went to Mrs. Jacobs' home and asked if they might haul a pile of rubbish away. She told them they could, and two wheelbarrows were taken away. The boys then went to the home of Mrs. Mabel Smith, next door, took a wheelbarrow, returned to the Jacobs place, captured a fat hen in the poultry yard and escaped.

PHYSICIANS PREDICT RECOVER OF HAROLD FISHER, HURT IN FALL

The "Heal-All" of the Indians

There is an herb which grows wild on our Western Plains known as "Manzanita" and to which the Indians attribute wonderful curative and healing virtue.

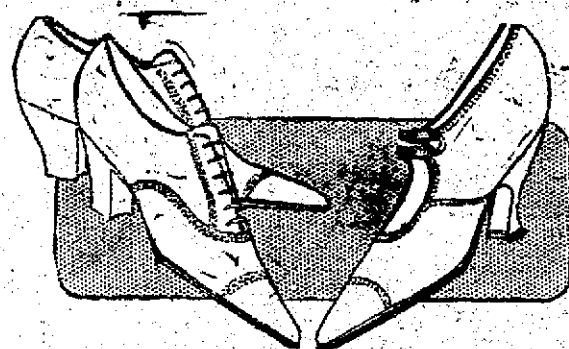

There is no question but that nature has bounteously provided in the roots and herbs of the field a remedy for many of the ills to which human flesh is heir. This is demonstrated by the wonderful success of that root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been relieving women of America from some of the worst forms of female ills. It will certainly pay any woman who so suffers to try it.—Adv.

LIMA LODGE N. A. S. E. TO ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Members of Lima Lodge, No. 21, of the N. A. S. E., are requested to be present at the regular meeting of that organization in Donze hall, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Several important issues are scheduled to come before the lodge at that time, principal among which will be election of officers for the ensuing year and the selection of delegates and alternates to the national convention.

The annual convention of the National Association of Stationary Engineers will be held the second Monday in September, at Evansville, Ind.

Hi There! Boys and Girls--Yo Hoo!

Come On Out and Play

Get Ready—all set, for the Big Blow-off of Fun—a whole week of fun. HEP, HEP, forward march, we're on our way!

Back in our grandfather's childhood days, the boys had a funny old song, which went like this:—

"Where 'ye goin' boys?
We're goin' to Vam Amberg's show
See the elephant and the wild kangaroo.
We're all goin' together, in rain or stormy weather,
An' we're goin' to see the whole thing through.
Johnny, stir up that lion, W-H-R-R-R-R-R-I-I."

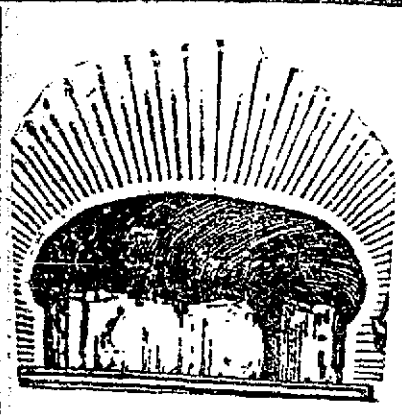

But say, kids, listen:—this JUNIOR CHAUTAUQUA is far better'n a circus, cause it lasts a whole week; it's a great big picnic-game frolic every morning at 9 o'clock—it's a riot of fun. An' say, those teachers, they're real chums—a feller's friend—and they just want ye to have a bushel of fun.

Don't forget the PLACE—BAXTER HOMESTEAD, corner Elm and McDonald Streets. It only costs a DOLLAR—and 10c War Tax, for the whole week's fun. And what's more yet, every child can go to the AFTER-NOON and EVENING Entertainments, too.

It starts SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 2nd, at 9 o'clock. Children up to 14 years, $1.00.

FREE MEETING—NO CHARGE—For EVERY BOY and GIRL—FRIDAY AFTERNOON, at 2 o'clock.

WOMAN ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

Marie Grimm Faces Two Indictments in Celina Court

JURY OF 12 PICKED FROM 49

Lima Contractors Ahead of Schedule on Court House

CELINA. — (Special) — The Marie Grimm trial was begun in Common Pleas Court Tuesday. Mrs. Grimm faces two first degree murder charges. She is accused of the murder of two infant children.

A venire of 36 names was drawn for jury duty and was quickly exhausted without securing the necessary 12. Another venire of 16 names was drawn and Edward Miesse, the 49th person examined, was accepted at 5 p. m. Tuesday, making the quota of 12. Seven hours was required to fill the jury. Opposition to capital punishment was the principal cause for rejection. Examination of witnesses begun Tuesday, 54 having been summoned.

Rapid progress is being made by the Ora M. Green Co., Westworth, Pa., and Williams Bros., all of Lima, in the construction of the new court house and installing the wiring and heating.

There are one month ahead of the schedule which was the aim set the first of May. With a continuance of this progress, the court house will be ready for occupancy three to six months earlier than expected.

With the advent of hot weather, success of fishermen in the reservoir here is not so marked. Crap-fish rise to lure some days in a manner that indicates a resumption of "fishermen luck," but the veerings of the wind or other change brings about a cessation of biting as quickly as it is begun. Despite the fact that catches have fallen off to a great extent, scores and hundreds of strangers are still visiting the lake.

SINKING FUNDS TRUSTEES TAKE WATER MAIN BONDS

Extension of water service to out-lazy districts in Lima will be greatly facilitated by the purchase of $3,000 water main bonds, series No. 2, made by the sinking fund trustees.

All members of the board were present save A. C. Calacab who is spending his annual vacation at Atlantic City, N. J. The trustees will be able to take up the $50,000 bonds and interest maturing July 1. Efforts were made to persuade the board to buy bridge bonds and sewer and disposal plant bonds from the sinking fund, were unsuccessful.

Interviews-- Ideas and Fancies

MRS. MERLE BOWDLE, Perryton: "Farmers around here will sell their wheat directly from the machines and will not store very much of it. Most of the farmers do not have enough bins to take care of the crop and probably wouldn't do it anyhow, as those who stored their wheat last year lost money. The crop this year will not be up to standard. Bugs are working in it and from the looks of things they may start after the corn crop also. I don't believe that the price paid for the crops will affect the amount sold. Farmers need the money and would rather get it now than wait and run the risk of lower prices or of having it destroyed by fire."

EX-CONGRESSMAN B. F. WELTY: "While in the east I purchased prunes at 17 cents a pound and brought them to Ohio. Here they are selling around 35 cents a pound, more than twice as much. This is caused by the difference between water and rail freight rates. It is cheaper to ship California fruit to New York by way of the Panama Canal than it is to ship it by rail to the middle western states. It costs much more to ship a locomotive from the Baldwin works in the east to the Pacific coast by rail than it does by ship. Inland deep waterways will do much to give interior states the same advantages as the coast states."

MRS. JULIA SIMPSON, Y. W. C. A. secretary: "Lima girls who attended the Y. W. Industrial Girls' Conference at the Western College, Oxford, had a wonderful time. There were between 300 and 400 girls there from all parts of Ohio and West Virginia. Our mascot was a tobacco doll baby and the girls all wore lima beans. During the mornings the different kinds of work of the Y. W. were demonstrated and in the afternoon everyone took part in the recreation program. Our stunt on 'stunt night' didn't win any prizes but it did get a lot of favorable comment. We were absent 10 days and enjoyed every one of them."

Corn Enders the old sort—and the new

Corns used to be treated by fakers. But science has found a better way to treat corns. And millions have adopted it.

The modern way is Blue-jay—liquid or plaster. A famous chemist perfected it. This great surgical dressing house prepares it.

Blue-jay is applied by a touch. The corn pain ends instantly. Then the corn is gently loosened. In a little while it comes out.

Prove this tonight.

FARMERS EXPRESS THEMSELVES

THAT agriculturists of the Buckeye state know what they want in the matter of statutes, is indicated pretty conclusively by answers that are being given to questionnaires submitted by the Ohio Farm Bureau federation. Answers have been pouring in by the thousands. The farmer knows what he wants in the way of national legislation and is expressing himself unreservedly.

Sixteen questions were submitted and a great majority of the responses favor commodity financing based on bonded warehouse receipts; livestock financing based on adequate pledges of animals and feed; development of a personal rural credits system based on proper safeguards; granting the Federal Reserve Board authority to classify rediscounts so as to give priority to loans for basic production of all kinds; prohibition of issuance of all tax-free securities thru a constitutional amendment; continuing the excess profits tax; building of farm-to-market roads prior to the construction of transcontinental highways; they favor the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway, but oppose other waterway development for transportation, reclamation and power at this time; placing the packers under regulation by the government and vesting such regulation in the department of agriculture; truth-in-fabric legislation; legislation enabling co-operative marketing.

The proposal to increase the limit on federal land bank mortgage loans from $10,000 to $25,000 met with an almost equal division of votes, with a small majority for the change. There is strong opposition to a general sales tax. They also declare that they will be able to move a materially larger amount of agricultural products if an adequate reduction is made in freight rates.

Reports of the survey in the country at large showed that the opinion of Ohio farmers is shared by those in the remainder of the United States.

WOODROW WILSON, ATTORNEY

FOR eight years President of the United States, Woodrow Wilson a few days ago took the oath and was admitted to the bar in the District of Columbia. Accompanied by Bainbridge Colby, his law partner and former secretary of state and Joseph P. Tumulty, former secretary to the President, Mr. Wilson drove to the court house in Washington and was aided by court attendants as he left his car and was taken in an elevator to the chambers of Chief Justice McCoey of the district supreme court.

Reports are that Wilson appeared in better health than when he left the White House after Harding's inaugural. Despite the fact that his condition is improved, the former President is far from being a well man. The effects of his strenuous work as chief executive of the United States during the most trying times in the history of the country are plainly upon him. He is changed from a strong, virile man to a broken and halting figure, the result of the superhuman effort he put forth in the cause of humanity.

During the latter years of his term of office, Wilson was greatly maligned. Political hatred, misrepresentation, calumny and the most vile attacks were his portion. He was even worse crucified than was the Martyred Abraham Lincoln. His physical condition is partly due to the torture he was forced to endure as a result of the cruel, unjust and unwarranted attacks made upon him as he was striving for results in the cause of humanity.

That Woodrow Wilson will go down into history as one of this country's greatest Presidents is now beginning to be realized even by those who are responsible for his broken body. His great intellect is as keen today as ever, but the hurt to his body induced by agony of mind and his devotion to a great principle unrealized, is slow in healing.

HORSES ARE DOOMED

ONE of the pitiful features of the aftermath of war in Mesopotamia is the announcement that 30,000 horses transported there by England during the war are to be destroyed, due to the fact that it is not economic to maintain them or return them to England.

Great Britain transported 47,000 horses to Mesopotamia during the war and the size of the military force to be maintained there will require only about 17,000. Hence, the disposition of the large number of unnecessary equines presents a problem that has not as yet been disposed of. Lovers of horses are startled and pained to learn what the necessary reduction of the British forces in Mesopotamia involves in the matter of the disposition of horses. Many of the lighter animals have been disposed of to the natives, but they have no use for the heavy draught animals which make up a large part of the remaining number.

Even the very nature of the country is such that the horses would perish if they were turned loose to shift for themselves. The natives could not and would not take proper care of them, if they were received as a free gift. In either case, slow starvation would be their fate. Their transportation back to England would cost more than their present market value and the throwing of a large number of horses on the British market would reduce prices to a far lower figure.

Still further complicating the situation is the rapidly developing use of power machinery, for road travel and agricultural purposes. It is held by those in touch with the situation in Mesopotamia that humanity and economy would be best served by putting the surplus number to death as mercifully as possible.

This is a sorrowful situation indeed, but no feasible plan has been suggested to meet it. If there are other countries nearer than England, to which the horses could be delivered at less expense and where they could be used to advantage and be assured of fairly good care, doubtless many lovers of horses in England and in other countries would be willing to contribute a good part of the cost of transportation.

AS YOU LIKE IT

In writing, care should be taken to bring out personal individuality. It is good to hear in mind that you are competing with the individualistic styles of generations of authors. It may be your fortunate lot to be possessed with a style which will revolutionize literature. You have the not uncommon desire to write—to give expression in words to what you feel in your conscious and subconscious mind. Command of the English language is not absolutely necessary; but originality is essential. Few writers ever get out of the mediocre class. The few who do, generally die poor. Develop your true selfhood and ignore traditions.

Do you realize that there are 9,376,543 other people in this world who are trying to do the same thing in seventy-three languages?

TOO REVOLUTIONARY.

My Dear Roy: I'm engaged in writing the great American play that later will have a continuity written for it and become the great American photoplay, and have decided that the butler will not be named Jenkins, the chauffeur James, the chorus girl Mable, the bootblack Tony and the waiter George. Want to collaborate?—Irving Rosen

PROF. STEINBRUGGE SAYS:

Why a person should deliberately poison himself and destroy his mind by drinking alcohol is almost incomprehensible. Alcohol eventually destroys every noble purpose within you and lowers your moral standard. Human life is shortened and the soul is often damned by its effects. Life is so full of the beautiful that it is a crime to destroy your power of enjoying it. Cultivate a taste for music, art, literature and learn to enjoy nature. Let your own divine selfhood illuminate your life and do not dullen your brain by drinking alcohol.

"Will you have a cocktail?"

"Sure I will."

GHOSTS.

It may be, ay, it may be, who can tell? That down these moss-grown crumbling bricks their feet
Still lightly fall, and round them, wild and sweet,
The perfume of the lilacs weaves its spell,
While the far vibrations of a bell
Haunt the cool dusk with murmurs soft and sweet;
Ay, here upon this gray old garden seat
They listen to the thrush's ritornel,
And while they watch the evening shadows fall,
They whisper the beloved names they knew,
Catch distant sounds borne thru the interval
"Twixt day and night—each dear, familiar clow Leading them back, as fond, faint voices call,
And love breathes round them with the silvery dew.
—Doris Kenyon.

A party came into this office this morning and said: "Is it hot enough for you?" His present address is the morgue.

ON OUR AVENUE.

Bang! bang! Oh, murder! Somebody's shot!
To the window in terror I fly—
'Twas only a spark plug's infernal report
From a lumbering bus passing by.

Motor trucks grinding, while hmoines toot;
What ails them, for mercy's sake?
Touting cars, taxi cabs, roadsters and vans;
What terrific commotion they make!

And now comes a sound as of a chariot race,
Fully fifty hoisehoofs or more Gayly pounding the stones as they chase some one's bonce
To the edge of the "Golden Shore."

Oh, this uproarious avenue,
The throng all have homes, no doubt;
But they're heading en masse toward lunatic land—
Most by gasoline route. —G. A. W.

A LITTLE SLICE O' LIFE.

It was one of those days
That you read about, and In our neighborhood it was So hot that the asphalt was Melting and running down hill,
And the humidity was so strong
That the air was almost water.
Breathing was a lost art.
A man in the apartment below us
Was sitting in the window
And looking out into the street
When a bird came along and Asked this man if he wanted to buy
A good fur overcoat cheap.
"Just want a minute,"
Said the man in the window,
"I'll be right down," and
On his way out he grabbed a gun
And a baseball bat and he Chased this bird with the Fur overcoat till they were Out of sight. The man hasn't Returned home yet. We didn't read
Of any murder in the paper
And probably our neighbor hasn't Caught his victim yet.

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

MUSTN'T TOUCH

Been down to the art museum and looked at a thousand things, The bodies of ancient mummies and the treasures of ancient kings, An' some of the things weren't much, But all had a rail around 'em, an' all wore a sign "don't touch." Now maybe an art museum needs guards an' a warning sign, An' the hands of the folks should never paw over its treasures fine, But I noticed the rooms were chilly with all the joys they hold, An' in spite of the lovely pictures, I'd say that the place is cold.

An' somehow I got to thinkin' of many a home I know Which is kept like an art museum, an' merely a place for show;

They haven't raffled off their treasures or posted up signs or such, But all the children know it—there's a lot that they mustn't touch.

It's hands off the grand piano, keep out of the finest chair, Stay out of the stylish parlor, don't run on the shiny stair. You may look at the velvet curtains which hang in the stately hall, But always and ever remember, they're not to be touched at all.

"Don't touch!" for an art museum, is proper enough, I know, But my children's feet shall scamper wherever they want to go, And I want no rare possessions or a joy which has cost so much, From which I must bar the children and tell them they "mustn't touch."

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is a doubtful day. Those who contemplate signing leases, or buying land, will do well to postpone signing contracts under this rule of the stars.

The stars indicate that there will be an increase in number of divorces, which may lead to a reaction favoring all the old-fashioned standards of living.

There is an indication that there will be a falling-off in the birth rates this summer.

The position of Jupiter promises the passing of wide laws, but Uranus encourages complaint and criticism.

Persons whose birthday this is should guard against accidents during the coming year and should be exceedingly careful when writing letters or business documents, since these may lead to trouble.

Children born on this day are likely to lead lives filled with dramatic incidents, and should be carefully guarded from possible accidents.

HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

These are brief extracts from letters I have recently received from girls:

"...As a girl I regard my purity more than anything else in this world, and I intend to continue so, but, Dr. Brady, I have met men who gave a very good first impression, but who have soon given up my friendship on account of purity, as it were."

"...I express myself forcibly on the way young men expect girls to 'spoon' if they take them out. If you don't, why, you just stay at home, and that, I assure you, is far from pleasant. So I would like to ask just where does innocent spooning end and indecency begin?"

The same thing has featured scores upon scores of letters from young women, young women of fair intelligence or more than average intelligence, as their letters indicate, and not the moron or high grade imbecile type that may be so easily recognized as wearing skirts a little too short, shoes a little too stogy, complexion a little too obvious and clothing a little too noisy. Then letters come from good average girls.

The unpleasant truth is that a considerable percentage of our "nice" young men today are untrustworthy in their moral conduct, and some of them, notwithstanding their "nice" appearance, manners or family connections, have venereal disease in a more or less incurable or rather uncurable form. It is these "nice" young men who take advantage of every opportunity to break down the moral barrier and rob any girl—any girl, no matter who or what she may be—of the thing which is indeed of more importance to her than anything else in the world. The philanthropist holds forth wherever young women foregoer to have fun.

This subject is not a pleasant one to write about. I'd rather discuss funerals, for in a quiet, sly way one may find considerable humor in a good funeral to relieve the solemnity of the event. There is no chance for humor in the subject I am trying to present now. No chance, that is, if one happens to be a parent or a big brother or sister to a little girl.

In some places, altho policemen are so thick you can scarcely get thru the traffic, the laws or ordinances against careless driving are a joke—speeding is the general rule, few drivers are guilty of turning short left corners, all drivers assume that a horn is a command to the mere pedestrian to dodge or wait, and in fact the police apparently agree that the man, woman or child who happens to be at foot has no rights worthy of protection. Naturally, there are many horrible accidents.

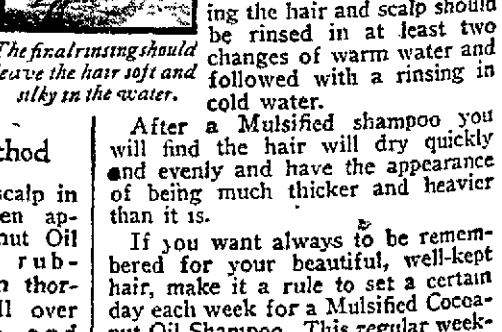

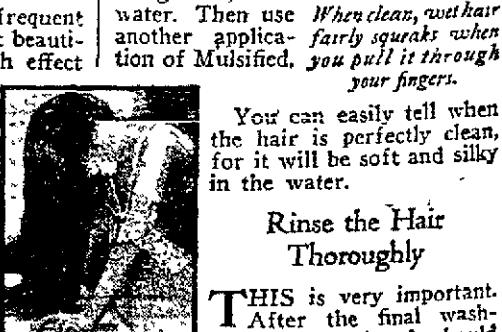

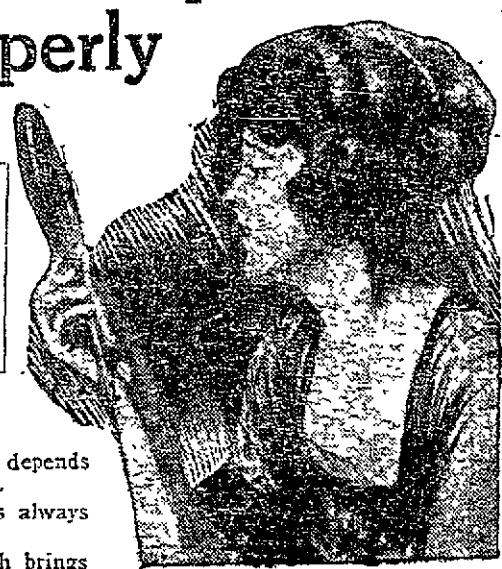

Some such state of affairs exists in the matter of moral conduct. The police pretend not to see idle, vicious, fashionably attired young men who hang out around public places or on the street and make insulting remarks about, or even to any young woman or young women who may happen to pass by. This is but one of a thousand obvious weaknesses of law enforcement—the winking of the police at the practice of loitering on the streets or about pool rooms, cigar stands and barber shops of a low class. Just as one driver, speeding thru a city street at 25 to 35 miles an hour without fear of police interference, drags down the moral standard for all drivers and increases the peril for all pedestrians, so one young male moral slacker holding forth in a public place is a menace to the moral standard of the community.

How to Shampoo Your Hair Properly

Why the beauty of your hair depends on the care you give it

THE beauty of your hair depends upon the care you give it. Shampooing it properly is always the most important thing. It is the shampooing which brings out the real life and lustre, natural wave and color, and makes your hair soft, fresh and luxuriant. When your hair is dry, dull and heavy, lifeless, stiff and gummy, and the strands cling together, and it feels harsh and disagreeable to the touch, it is because your hair has not been shampooed properly. When your hair has been shampooed properly, and is thoroughly clean, it will be glossy, smooth and bright, delightfully fresh-looking, soft and silky. While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps, soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it. That is why discriminating women use Mulsified Coconut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product cannot possibly injure, and it does not dry the scalp, or make the hair brittle, no matter how often you use it. If you want to see how really beautiful you can make your hair look, just Follow This Simple Method

FIRST, wet the hair and scalp in clear, warm water. Then apply a little Mulsified Coconut Oil Shampoo, rubbing it in thoroughly all over the scalp and throughout the entire length, down to the ends of the hair. Rub the Lather In Thoroughly TWO or three teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather. This should be rubbed in thoroughly and briskly with the finger tips, so as to loosen the dirt and small particles of dirt and dirt that stick to the scalp. When you have done this, rinse the hair and scalp thoroughly, using clear, fresh water. Then use Mulsified Coconut Oil Shampoo. When clean, wet hair another application fairly swashes when you pull it through your fingers. You can easily tell when the hair is perfectly clean, for it will be soft and silky in the water. Rinse the Hair Thoroughly THIS is very important. After the final washing the hair and scalp should be rinsed in at least two changes of warm water and followed with a rinsing in cold water. After a Mulsified Coconut Oil Shampoo you will find the hair will dry quickly and evenly and have the appearance of being much thicker and heavier than it is. If you want always to be remembered for your beautiful, well-kept hair, make it a rule to set a certain day each week for a Mulsified Coconut Oil Shampoo. This regular weekly shampooing will keep the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, fresh looking and fluffy, wavy and easy to manage, and it will be noticed and admired by everyone. You can get Mulsified Coconut Oil Shampoo at any drug store or toilet goods counter. A 4-ounce bottle should last for months. WATKINS Mulsified COCONUT OIL SHAMPOO

Chas. W. Fisher Files Suit For $400 Damages

WAPAKONETA — (Special) — B. A. Williams, a prominent St. Louis man and a veteran of the Civil War, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. George Williams, Union, Tuesday. Death was due to Bright's disease and dropsy. He was 75 years old. He was buried Thursday in the family cemetery.

A marriage license was granted here to Joseph H. Craft, truck driver, Allen, Mo., and Lillian Lefel, 17, housekeeper, Kossuth.

There is one automobile to every ten persons in Anglatzco. The federal census returned a population of 29,527 in 1920 and 2,969 licenses were issued this year.

Attorney and Mrs. C. A. Stueve left on a tour to Europe and the Holy Land that will extend to October.

District No. 10 of the state farm bureau federation held a meeting here. The district comprises: Augate, Logan, Shelby and Mercer.

Charles W. Fisher filed a damage suit against Dennis Dudgeon of Fayetteville, asking for $400, which he claims is due him for damage to his truck when struck by Dudgeon's car on June 9.

Uniforms were received for eight boys who will leave Saturday to attend the boys' training camp at Camp Roosevelt, Michigan.

Due to many fine stones and dust, the laying of a new roof on the firehouse here presented a perplexing problem. It was solved when the fire department used the fire fighting apparatus to wash the obstinate material off.

Lawrence Gress, who formerly made his home near Botkins, is being held in the county jail here pending a hearing before Probate Judge on Friday to determine his sanity.

Roberts Supply Co. of Lima is a bidder for construction of Monroe bridge over the Miami-Erie canal in Bremen. Bid is $11,777.00. John Prantz of Sidney bid $10,963.

LIMA SALESMAN TAKES 27-TON "BAGGAGE" ON SOUTH AMERICAN TRIP

About the biggest piece of "baggage" ever taken out of New York port by a passenger was shipped several days ago to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, South America, on the Lamport & Holt line steamer by G. Bruce Kittle, salesman for the Lima Locomotive Works, on his way to Brazil.

Kittle had four large trunks, but the big article that attracted much attention was a 27-ton locomotive which he is taking to South America as a sample. He intends to show it to the officials of the Leopoldina Railway, which operates some 60 miles north of Rio de Janeiro, and if they like the huge sample, he will sell it to them.

As a representative of the Lima Locomotive Works, Kittle intends to develop trade in South America for his company. He will make a tour of other Latin countries, in prospect of selling his massive war. On the way his departure from New York, the Tribune of that city gave space to a detail of Kittle's "baggage" and his South American prospects.

EMPLOYEES ENTHUSIASTIC

Comments On The Saturday Night Closing By Heads Of Departments At The Bluem Store

Showing that Mr. Bluem's policy in closing at supper time on Saturday nights has met with unbounded enthusiasm by all employees of the handsome new store at Market & Elizabeth we quote some of the remarks overheard while going through the different departments:

"I think it is the greatest thing any merchant in Lima has ever done—when it comes Saturday evening we are all tired enough to go home."

Frank Clark,
Cloak and Suit Buyer

"When we have sold goods all day for six days in the week, we surely need a little time to ourselves on Saturday evening—Every clerk in Lima knows what a great thing this Saturday night closing is."

Maria Hirschland,
Hosiery and Glove Buyer

"We handle rugs, draperies, trunks and many other things on the fifth floor all day long—we are glad to show customers our merchandise during the day but we feel as Mr. Bluem has stated in an ad, that when supper time comes on Saturday we are glad to put an end to our work—we hope every store in Lima follows in this step forward."

Durbin Brown,
Rug and Drapery Buyer

"We have many customers who pay their accounts on Saturday night but since the announcement about our Saturday night closing came out we have heard hundreds of customers say what a fine thing it is for the help in the store—believe me, the help surely appreciate this move."

W. E. Kelley,
Credit Manager

"Very little of our business is done after supper on Saturday nights as folks like to see the colors by daylight—we surely are glad we will not have to work the hot Saturday nights this summer."

Josephine Weitz,
Silks and Woollens Buyer

"When customers get to knowing that Bluem's store is closed on Saturday night, for the benefit of the employees of the store, they will do their buying before supper time, of that I am positive as I have heard many of them say that it was one of the finest things ever done in Lima."

Anna McMahon,
Corset and Lingerie Buyer

"Many of us, who have been in a store for thirty years or more realize fully what this move of Mr. Bluem's means—the older residents remember when the stores were open every night in the week and when we started to close at supper time thru the week we all felt that it was a wonderful thing—this is even better."

Darius Bowers,
Domestic Buyer

"I think it is fine—the biggest step forward, and the best thing for the clerks that ever happened in a Lima store."

Scott Carl,
Display Manager

"We surely appreciate Mr. Bluem's stand in this matter—it is a fine thing for everyone concerned and surely any progressive store realizes the importance of giving the clerks the benefit of Saturday night to themselves—we are all very appreciative."

STEINER-HOEGNER WEDDING PRETTY CHURCH AFFAIR

LIVELY in its simplicity was the ceremony which united in marriage Miss Katherine Hoegner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Hoegner, W. Grand-ave. and Willis A. Steiner.

The service took place at the First Reformed church Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the Rev. T. W. Hoernemann officiating. There were no attendants and the single ring service was used.

The church was prettily decorated with palms and daisies. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Ella Eysenbach gave a program of organ numbers, followed by Lohengrin's wedding march. The recessional was Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride was attired in an attractive white georgette gown and wore a white tulle hat. Her corsage was of white roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. Covers were laid for only members of the immediate families and a very few intimate friends of the couple. Baskets of daisies were in evidence throughout the rooms and a mound of daisies surrounded with greenery, formed the center piece for the bride's table, while smaller tables were graced with small baskets of garden flowers.

Mr. Steiner and his bride left for a 10 days' motor trip thru Pennsylvania and eastern points and upon their return to this city will reside at 223 W. Grand-ave.

Mrs. Steiner has been engaged in stenography and book-keeping for some time. Mr. Steiner is a member of the firm of the Steiner Brothers, Machinists.

Honoring Misses Emaline and Sylvia Ackerman, Detroit, house guests of Mrs. Benjamin Ackerman, Miss Pauline Hyman, State-st., entertained a few friends informally at a "daintily appointed 5 o'clock tea" Tuesday.

Guests included Misses Selma Weixelbaum, Leona Bernstein, Harriet Lillenthal, Clara Brenner, Lucile and Constance Wise, Leona Rosenbaum and the honor guests.

Mrs. E. N. Zellitz was hostess to a large group of guests at bridge-tee at her home, The Oaks, Shawnee, Tuesday afternoon. At the conclusion of the enjoyable afternoon of play, with Mrs. Harry Macdonald holding high score and Mrs. Harry E. Moulton low, a daintily appointed 5 o'clock tea was served. Mrs. Carl Fletcher and Mrs. Frank Baxter assisted the hostess throughout the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Snodgrass, Mrs. Mary Marnett, mother of Mrs. Snodgrass, all of W. Wayne-st., and Mrs. Allen Kahle Mowen left Tuesday for Sandusky to attend the state teachers' convention.

Honoring her house guest, Mrs. Telka Farm McKinnin, Swarthmore, Pa., Mrs. J. Allen Grubb, S. McDonnell-st., received a group of musicians at her home, Tuesday evening.

A delightful musical program was enjoyed throughout the evening. Mrs. Harold B. Adams, Bluffton, gave a brief address, relative to Scandinavian themes. Miss Violet Bradley, Mrs. Fred E. Gooding and Mrs. Clarence Klinger all played Scandinavian numbers and the honor guest favored with several vocal numbers. At the conclusion of the program, a social hour was enjoyed and a dainty repast was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Clay McPherson, Mrs. Fred Calvert, Mrs. Fred Gooding, Mrs. Clarence Klinger and Miss Marjetta Day.

Final meeting of the season of the Community Sewing class was held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, Tuesday. The meeting was well attended and much enthusiasm was manifested toward plans for the continuance of the work next year. This year's work proved to be unusually successful and harmonious.

Mrs. Jeanette Thrift, S. Collett-st., left Wednesday for Pittsburgh for a short visit after which she will leave for New York City where she will take a summer course at the Columbia University.

Miss Helen Basinger and Miss Margaret Abrams will leave July 10th for Grove City, Pa., where they will be bridesmaids at the wedding of Miss Gladys Black. Miss Black is a sorority sister of Miss Abrams and Miss Basinger at Northwestern University. The ceremony will take place July 14th.

Sister of Foolish Young Man Seeks to Break Up His Dangerous Doings

Dear Miss Smart: I am a young man of 21, goes with a married woman. He is single himself and will listen to my pleas to forget this woman. He insists upon DOUBTLESS, it would only add to the complications and make matters worse for you to tell the woman's husband. It would not be advisable and I think a better solution could be found. Certainly this woman's husband must be very negligent and must fail in giving his wife the protection and companionship she needs. A married woman cannot disgrace herself very long by receiving the attentions of another man until her husband gains some knowledge of it.

You have tried opposition and warning. All this has been without effect. Why not try ignoring the subject. Most probably our brother is not in love with this woman. It is simply nothing more than fascination on his part, or a desire to do that which he has been advised against. He has perhaps become obstinate because of your opposition and may have kept alive an interest which otherwise would have been forgotten quickly. In the future simply ignore the affair. Make it appear as a thing so cheap and disgraceful that it does not deserve consideration. Your brother will probably soon realize his mistake and cease to exhibit an interest in this woman.

Dear Miss Smart: I am to be married next Sunday and am going to have dinner with my friends at home. I am writing to ask you to publish the different articles to be put in the book and their meaning. A button, thimble, ring and dime are the articles one generally puts in a wedding cake. The one receiving the button is destined to be a bachelor; the one holding the thimble has the life of an old maid to which she can look forward; the dime promises vast wealth to its receiver, while the one obtaining the ring will be the next to marry.

Dear Miss Smart: I number so much I would like to ask if you could suggest something to remedy this?

FRENCH FROCK FOR MISS UNDER SEVEN

By ELOISE

The problem of how to dress the kiddies in this warm weather is simple compared to what it used to be, for the modern idea is not to bundle them up, but to let them wear as few and as comfortable clothes as possible. Lightweight china silk is being much used this season. It is cool and launders nicely. Many mothers are letting their youngsters wear china silk bloomers and a frock to match and that constitutes the entire summer costume for the warmest days.

Pictured here is a little imported frock designed for the little miss who is no more than six. Two heavy rows of rose satin ruching are the sole adornment on the frock which comes from Paris. The dress itself is fashioned of a lightweight silk in pure white. Note the little yoke effect with its drop shoulders, quite like a grown-up's fashionable frock.

At 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, in the parsonage of the Immaculate Conception church, Kenton, Miss Norah Mulhady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mulhady, and Walter Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank George Wright, of this city, were united in marriage. The Rev. H. J. Schumacher officiated and the attendants were Miss Katherine Mulhady, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid and Edison Lerch as best man. The bride was attired in a duchess satin gown trimmed in Chantilly lace. She wore a white georgette picture hat and carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

A wedding dinner at the home of the bride's parents followed after which Mr. and Mrs. Wright left on a lake trip. They will be at home after July 15th in Springfield, Mr. Wright being connected with the Ohio Steel Foundry in that city.

Mrs. Wright was a graduate of the Kenton High School and claims a host of friends both in this city and in Kenton.

Mr. Wright was graduated from the Lima Central High school and while a student at Kenyon College enlisted in the naval aviation corps, being one of the first to offer his services for duty in the World War. After qualifying as an instructor in this branch he was commissioned ensign, being stationed at Pensacola, Fla.

In attendance from this city were Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Wright and son George, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Galvin, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace King, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett R. Curtin Jr., Mrs. Harry Wright and son Harry Jr., Misses Freda Prosser, Elizabeth Brennan and Margaret Daley.

Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock, Miss Elsie Arnold and James R. Baker, both of Cincinnati, were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Olmsted, Dewey-ave, the Rev. A. A. Thomas officiating. The single ring service was used and Mr. and Mrs. Olmsted, very intimate friends of the couple, attended.

After July 10th, Mr. and Mrs. Baker will receive many friends at their home in Cincinnati.

Mr. Baker is assistant manager of the Wheel Tool and Hardware Company, Cincinnati.

An enjoyable dance of Tuesday evening was that given by the Wayfarers club, at Mc Beth Park. The dance was attended and the committee in charge included William Snyder, chairman, Amos Long and Douglas Andrews.

Miss Pauline Hyman, State-st., will leave Friday for a month's stay in Battlecreek, Mich.

CHARLES RAY IN A NEW PLAY IT'S "SCRAP IRON," WITH LOTS OF ACTION

CHARLES RAY is always good, no matter what his surroundings. Given a decent production, a competent supporting cast, and a story with any backbone at all, and he is practically unbeatable.

In "Scrap Iron" he is beautifully equipped with all three, and the result is a picture somewhat stronger than anything he has done before. Which, when one considers his fine record in the movies, is no faint praise.

Altho "Scrap Iron" bears little or no resemblance to Charles Van Loan's story of that name, it has the requisite punch, and the spectator's interest is never let down. The hero, John Steel, a factory hand; has promised his invalid mother that he will abstain from the manly art of athletics. This promise places him in numerous embarrassing situations, particularly when the prizefighter, Battling Burke, comes to town and steals Steel's girl from him. The lad can only make verbal protests against this foul deed, and so earns the sobriquet of "Scrap Iron" from his fellow millworkers; "scrap iron" being synonymous, apparently, with "yellow."

As in "The Old Swimmin' Hole," Mr. Ray depends upon a minimum number of printed words to put his ideas across. He relies upon his own real genius for pantomime to express himself, and he succeeds admirably—something that the majority of so-called stars are utterly unable to do.

HERE'S KATHERINE'S LATEST FILM

KATHERINE MACDONALD'S latest production for First National has been titled "Her Social Value." The picture is from an original story by Miss Macdonald's scenario staff. The production is said to be the biggest and most pretentious picture yet made by the American Beauty. Service of some stellar players was secured to support the star, some of whom have long been featured in big productions. The completed cast includes Roy Stewart, Betty Ross Clarke, Bertram Grassby, Winter Hall, Joseph Girard, Lillian Rich, Helen Raymond and Vincent Hamilton.

"Her Social Value" will be released following "Stranger Than Fiction," Miss Macdonald's ninth production for First National.

KOSLOFF PLANS A BALLET NOW

THEODORE KOSLOFF, the violinist, who has been making pictures with Cecil B. DeMille for some time, will take an extended vacation sometime in the fall. During this time he plans to produce an elaborate and spectacular ballet double program.

Mr. Kosloff has gained wide renown since his entrance into the DeMille aggregation. Many will remember his excellent work as the rascally butler in "Forbidden Fruit."

THEATRE DIRECTORY

AT THE FAUCOT:—Final times today, Wallace Reid, supported by Agnes Ayers, in "The Love Special." Paramount magazine and Pathe News.

AT THE SIGMA:—

Louise Glaum is starred in "I'm Guilty" appearing for the last times today at the Sigma theatre.

AT THE LYRIC:—

"See My Lawyer" with T. Roy Barnes and Grace Darmond, is the feature attraction today at the Lyric theatre.

AT THE MAJESTIC:—

"The Teeth of the Tiger" with an all-star cast, terminates its engagement at the Majestic theatre. Also Johnny Hines in "Torchy's Millions."

FLICKERS:—

Helen Chadwick recently received a pair of slippers from an admirer in China. She admired them and sent an appreciative note of thanks to the donor, but when she came to put them on she said she felt like Cinderella's step-sister. They were about a size one.

Cullen Landis is an expert rifle shot on the range. He goes deer hunting every season, but gets nervous when he sees his living quarry—and has yet to bag his first prize.

Leatrice Joy is partial to gingham dresses, of which, according to a Goldwyn press agent, she possesses three dozen. She always wears gingham, except when costumed for a picture.

NOTES:—

A new Christian Science film is in the making. It is an adaptation of Clara Louise Burnham's "Heart's Haven" and is being put out by Benjamin B. Hampton.

ONE LITTLE THREAD OF LIFE

E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

She shuddered, and looked into his face with a curious expression. But he saw nothing, for he was looking down once more at the black, turbid waters of despair. "When was this?" she asked. "Tonight; only a few hours ago," he answered. "Why, you must be dreaming!" "It must be the strangest adventure I have ever had. Some day I will tell you all about it." She drew her chair a little farther back into the box. "I want to hear now, at once," she said. "Tell me all about it." Driscoll lounged thru the house, smoking a cigarette and escaping, as far as possible, the notice of his acquaintances. But in the promenade he came face to face with a man who declared altogether to notice Driscoll's averted head and attempt to pass on. A firm hand was laid upon his shoulder, and a man's pleasant voice greeted him cordially. "Driscoll, by all that's lucky!" the newcomer exclaimed. "Do you know you are the very last man I was thinking of. No, don't try to get away, there's a good fellow. You'll be glad you saw me directly." "My dear Hubert," Driscoll answered wearily, "I couldn't be glad to meet my dearest friend. I am in a beast of a temper, and not fit company for any one. Let me go, please a good chap. I'll look you up when I am more fit."

But Driscoll's friend had not the least idea of letting him go—on the contrary, his grasp became a little more tenacious. He drew him forward to the front of the promenade, and motioned toward the box where Hobson and the girl were sitting. "There!" he exclaimed triumphantly, "aren't you glad you met me?" "I really can't imagine why," Driscoll said. "The young man at his side laughed heartily. 'Look down into that box,' he said. 'Now perhaps you'll wake up a bit.'"

Driscoll stared blankly downward without the least change of demeanor. "I see a man whom I know slightly," he said, "and his fiancée, to whom I have just been introduced. They are very much in love with one another and I found their society a little inspiring that I was glad to make my escape. Even," he added with a slight smile, "at the risk of being bored by a chatterbox like you."

"Oh that's all rot!" the young man declared energetically. "You know perfectly well what I mean and what I brought you here for. The girl who was in your box at the Court Garden Ball."

Driscoll looked at him blandly without a tremor in his face. "My dear fellow," he said, "you must either be dreaming or else trying to chaff me. The young lady is the daughter of an eminently respectable bank manager, and lives with her people down at Balham."

"Look here, Hubert," Driscoll said, "you are the sort of young man who sometimes does a lot of harm by jumping at conclusions. Take care, if you please, that you do nothing of the sort in the present instance. Mr. Hobson is a friend of mine and altho the young lady is a complete stranger to me I am quite prepared to answer for her also. I hope that I have said enough."

The young man shrugged his shoulders.

"I live at Balham," she said quietly, "but I was supposed to be staying tonight with friends of our neighbor, Mr. Gregson, the gentleman who was with me, I shall go home now."

"And the last train?" Hobson asked eagerly.

"Twelve o'clock," she answered, "so I am afraid that supper is out of the question."

"Why not drive down?" Driscoll suggested. "My car will be waiting, and he can get you down to Balham in half an hour and bring Hobson back again."

"I should like that very much," she answered.

"In that case perhaps supper would be a possibility?" Driscoll suggested.

She nodded.

"My people are away, and I have a key," she answered. "In any case it will not matter so long as Mr. Hobson sees me home."

Driscoll reached down his coat.

"Suppose we go now then," he said. "There is nothing more of interest upon the programme."

Outside they came face to face with Gregson, who was waiting for her with a sullen impatience. She started and grew a little pale, but Hobson drew her arm thru his and pushed forward. The man remained immovable, however. He ignored her companions and addressed her, his voice shaking with passion.

"You mean to make a fool of me then," he began, "look here—"

A piece of gold dropped into the palm of the tall commissioner sufficient to end the matter. Before Gregson knew where he was he was bundled outside. Driscoll took Kathleen's hand, and, stepping past, put her into a taxi.

"Follow us in another taxi, Hobson," he said, "to the Queen's restaurant. It will be better for us to go separately. I will send for a motor to meet us there."

They drove off, Driscoll kept the girl's hand in his, holding it with light, firm fingers.

"Listen," he said to her quietly, "we have only a minute or two, and I am going to tell you a little story May I?"

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

By PHYLIS PHILLIPS

That evening the first really fierce attack of home-sickness plus heartache swept over Cherry. This was followed by an almost insane desire to get away from her present surroundings anywhere. To run as far as was humanly possible and never return again.

She felt smothered, bewildered by her recent experiences, non-plussed by Ned's unlooked for absence, and his hasty departure without so much as an attempt to see her, and explain this, his first night away since their marriage. What a farce this whole game was after all. Just as her mother had often told her, "Fool, she, not to have realized that she was never intended for double bariness, especially which flourishes in a small town."

In the short space of an hour, the hour so loved by Ned and herself, Cherry went thru the whole gamut of emotions, doubts, fears, suspicions, heartaches and all the rest with which every young wife sooner or later becomes acquainted during the first years of matrimony.

She managed to prink up and smile enough at dinner time, however, to keep the family from suspecting just how sad she was feeling under all her gaiety. During the meal Jack and she chatted and joked with each other like two lively crickets. Jane's admirer was also at the table, and several times Cherry found herself smiling broadly at him, despite her secret sorrow.

Mrs. Randall was the soul of joviality. She laughed and kept the young people in gales of merriment. Once she referred to her eldest son's absence and patted Cherry's hand comfortingly, as she assured her that "Edward would be back again before she knew it."

After dinner the young people sat about planning the program for a forthcoming tournament to be given by the tennis club, and before she knew it Cherry found that the evening had slipped away.

Tired, but in better spirits, she wished the family good-night and went up to her lonely room. Once here, she sat down and looked sentimentally at a photograph of Ned, which graced the top of the dressing table. Where was he now? What was he doing? And had her conduct of the night before had anything to do with his sudden departure for a far off town? These, and a hundred other tormenting thoughts came to assail her in her loneliness. Maybe she had been too quick in deserting him the night before, and maybe he had felt it far more deeply than he had allowed her to see that morning. Men were queer creatures, her Ned, in particular. He said little, when most deeply pained, of that she was sure.

Rotarians Win Over Kiwanians

Clubs	W	L	Tot.
Rotary	7	2	778
Elks	3	3	590
Lions	3	4	429
Kiwanis	2	6	250

Lack of effectiveness on the part of pitchers Dettich and Goldsberry, and inability to cope successfully with the offerings of Don Rohe, Rotary hurler, were responsible for the 2 to 2 defeat of the Kiwanians at Murphy-st park Tuesday afternoon. A muddy field, a late start and slow base ball combined to take the edge off the interest, and only a handful of fans stayed to see the completion of the game.

Altho the score is indicative of a poor exhibition of baseball, it was not the worst game that has been played at the park this season. Both teams played well on the defensive, each having two errors checked to its credit. The sum total of Rotary's win is, they hit the pinches, and the Kiwanis team didn't.

ROHE WORKS NICE
Up to the sixth inning Rohe held the Indians to a brace of safeties. Then the jovial sang out to him for two hits in the sixth, and four additional ones in the seventh, moving their base aways up to eight. The Rotary got 10 hits off Dettich and Goldsberry. Dettich showed signs of wildness in the third frame with no one down. He was pulled in favor of Goldsberry. Up to that time Dettich had allowed four hits and as many runs.

Clem Thompson, manager of the Rotarians, who has been out of the game with a broken thumb was back in the spangles Tuesday. He repeated the old trick of leaving the dizzy corner unguarded, and Goodrich pilfered it with ease. Just prior to this Fenton stole second while Dettich held the ball.

The Kiwanis aggression has surely suffered a slump. At the start of the season this team got away like the proverbial house on fire, and indications were the team was going to finish right around the top of the loop when the season was brought to an end. But the old jinx hit them. Tuesday's contest was the fourth consecutive game they have dropped. Asking the reason why? There's only one answer—pitchers. That's the Indians' weakness. Manager Jolly has a likely looking company of ball tossers, but a ball team like the well known chain is no stronger than its weakest link, and Jolly's weakest link lies in his pitcher's department.

SHOULD PROFIT BY IT
This the manager knows, but he is powerless to help it. The commission rules that he may not elen another hurler, so the best he can do is limp thru the season with the staff he has. But, oh gee, what a sweet chance to profit by the experience, and not be caught in the same net when the 1922 season swings into action.

By virtue of its win Tuesday, the Rotary clan grabs a firmer grip on the top rung of the ladder, and is now leading its closest opponent the Elks by 278 points. Kiwanis is away down in the cellar, and will have to show a sudden burst of speed if it gets out before the season closes, which, incidentally, is just one month away.

It's pretty safe to predict that a hard fought game will be staged at Murphy-st Thursday afternoon when the Lions and the Elks battle for that second place.

The Elks, at present, are residing there. But the margin is mighty small. So small, in fact, that if the Lions chase the Antlered Tribe Thursday, the Elks will drop to third place while the Lions will be the farthest up the ladder they have ever been. As mentioned before, the Lions have apparently hit their stride, and traveling at their present clip, they are dangerous foes. And the other three teams in the league realize this.

Tuesday's score by innings:
Rotary 132 120 0—9 10 2
Kiwanis 100 000 1—2 8 2
Batteries: Rohe and Sealts; Dettich, Goldsberry and Allgire.
Umpire: Jackson.

CHAMPION IS SURE TO WIN THIS FIGHT WITH CARPENTIER-JACK'S MOTHER KNOWS

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—"I don't know an awful lot about the boxing business," says "Ma" Dempsey, "but I do know who is going to win that fight on July 2.

"My Jack is going to win and he is going to win quick. I can't tell you why I know except that I feel it all over. I am not going to watch the returns at all. "I am going to wait for a telegram from my boy telling me he is still champion."

That is the inside on the Dempsey-Carpentier fight, straight from the person who knows Jack best—his mother.

Mrs. Hiram Dempsey, mother of the heavyweight champion, sat in the sun room of the bungalow her son bought her and radiated confidence.

"I won't be nervous until it is about time for the fight to begin," she said. "Then I will do as hard a day's work as Jack. I won't do a thing that afternoon but, pull for Jack, and I know it will help a lot.

"Jack always lets me know just how things are going. When he tells me he is ready, he is ready. He doesn't fool his mother. He has told me he is ready and I know he is coming home to me, still champion."

"Jack thinks about me when he goes into the ring. He has told me so, and I know it anyhow. I can feel it.

"When he won his last big fight he gave me this home. It is so wonderful that for a long time I felt uncomfortable in it. If any additional dope is needed after this, why, 'Dad' Dempsey is willing to part with a little inside stuff.

"One round," he said, speaking of Mr. Carpentier's fate. "One round and early in that one, Jack's only starting. He is young and it is going to be a long time before he meets a better man than he is."

Jersey City Is All Set For Big Battle Next Saturday

Jersey City is ready now to open her gates to 90,000 fight fans.

Tex Rickard's big pine arena isn't completed yet, but the city is prepared.

"All of our plans are ready. We will take care of the crowds," Mayor Frank Hague said today.

Carpentiers who struck the other day because Tex Rickard hired some non-union men to paint numbers on the seats, delayed the work so that the arena may not be ready before Friday.

The ring is to be built today. No one will be allowed to stand. The ushers all will have to go to the top of the bleachers. Every effort will be made to provide a clear view without criticism.

Jersey City is not noticing any advance rush usually staged three days before the fight. The hotels are not crowded. Reservations still are available.

Hotel men attribute this to the fact that practically all of the visitors will stay in New York and come over on the day of the fight.

Pirates, Reds To Play Game May 28

PITTSBURG, Pa.—The Cincinnati Reds and the Pittsburgh Pirates will play their disputed game of May 28 here tomorrow afternoon, when Moran's Nationals open a three day engagement at Forbes field. The game will start in the eighth inning when it was protested by Manager Gibson at Cincinnati, with Barnhardt on third base, Cutshaw at bat and the score tied at three runs.

DAREDEVIL THOMAS ENTERED IN AUTO RACES

With Buick—To Captain the Team
Had Hard Battle to Gain Present Position

Frank Thomas, of Indianapolis, Ind., who stepped into the captaincy of the Buick team, with the retirement of Billy McKinney and who now occupies the berth that formerly was the property of Louis Williams, will be a starter in the automobile races which are to be held at the Lima Fair Grounds, Monday July 4th.

Thomas did not earn the top position on the Buick outfit without a battle, which started in 1919, when he joined the team in the role of a humble mechanic. After serving as a pit man and oil pumper until 1920, he was given a car and told to go out and do his damndest. And he did, right thru the fence, at Cincinnati last year. Instead of winning first place, he won a cot in the hospital for six weeks.

After his recovery, Thomas started to use his head just as well as his heavy foot, and the result was that he finished high up in some of the most important races throughout the country, and he continued to get away without a scratch until this spring in the Southeastern Sweepstakes at Atlanta, when his Buick decided to leave the track, and plunged into a lake in the infield. Thomas was fished from the waters. Then he went around trying to borrow a diver's suit so he could go down into the lake and help salvage his car.

The Buick has just been reconstructed at Detroit and the plucky Irishman will attempt to show Bill Hunt, Louis Williams and the others that they are not the only drivers that can win races. There is no question about his daring, as spectators who attended the Cincinnati races last year will testify.

Another one of the most feared drivers in these races is Frank Schloeman of Indianapolis. He is going to drive the Stutz, which car has a record of 90 miles per hour on the Indianapolis track. Schloeman is going to apply for entry in the next Speedway race at Indianapolis.

Indiana and Ohio leading speed artists who have more than twice their own in dirt track classics throughout the country for the past number of years are in line for the events, and a tough battle is expected in every one of the races on the program.

The field of entries will be divided into groups for each of the ten mile sprints, and the winner of these will compete in a program headed by a 25-mile race.

The goal of all the drivers is entry to the 25-mile race, and they can be backed to kick up plenty of dust in an effort to put over 10-mile victories.

The feature event promises to be a crackerjack race, as it will bring the fastest cars and the most daring dirt track drivers of Ohio and Indiana together in competition for the biggest prize that has ever been offered for a race of this kind.

For the past week the drivers have been tuning up their cars, and all are satisfied that they can show the fans more speed than has ever been exhibited on any dirt track.

Indications point that the attendance record will be broken to this year's speed classic, as foretold by the large number of out-of-town sales and inquiries to date.

Every possible precaution will be taken by the management to prevent a recurrence of the accidents which last year snuffed out the lives of several drivers.

TOM GIBBONS SAYS JACK'S IN FINE SHAPE

BY TOMMY GIBBONS
(Challenger for the Heavyweight Championship)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Jack Dempsey is in wonderful shape. I saw him work out yesterday. Of course he didn't do much but that is to be expected as he is in superb shape now. Anything but light work might make him so stale.

He seems to be in the best of spirits and if he has been worrying or suffering from nerves, he does not show it in his work or in conversation.

He does not look as ferocious as he did at Toledo. This is due of course to the fact that he did not get sublimed as he did in Ohio when he was training for Willard. He looks bigger tho, and more rugged.

I was influenced several weeks ago by the report that he became muscle-bound. He does not show it and I'm sure he is not.

I didn't have the chance to get a look at his real footwork or at his punching. We all know what he can do, tho. I think his condition is the most important factor and he is in fine shape. Any boxer at this stage of training, cannot hide the symptoms of staleness or overtraining. I have predicted before that Dempsey would win. After seeing him, I am more convinced that he will win in a short bout.

PRICE LEVEL MAY DROP FURTHER

Some Commodities Have Hit Rock Bottom, However

BUYING IS RECOMMENDED

Especially in Lines Already At Pre-War Values

(BY E. C. FORBES) — Will the average price level for commodities and goods decline much more? Roughly, the general price level is still nearly 50 per cent above what it was in 1914. At one time it was fully double the 1914 figures.

In these unsettled days it is impossible to foretell with any degree of certainty how prices or anything else will move in the near future. One can at best merely hazard guesses, based on a close scrutiny of what has already happened, what is now happening, and the undercurrents visible in certain directions. The whole subject, however, is of such timely importance and enters so largely into the consideration of business men today, that one is tempted to present some facts and some comment.

The United States has made more progress than any other leading country in correcting the gross inflation bred by the war. European prices, as a whole, show a much greater percentage of advance over pre-war prices than do prices in this country. Of course, abnormal expansion in the volume of currency, outstanding in European countries has much to do with this. A Germany, for example, the necessities of life cost several—often more than half-a-dozen—times as much as before the war, when measured by German money. But, meanwhile, the value of the German mark has collapsed terribly. Four marks used to be equal to about one American dollar. Now the German mark is worth only about 1/10 of an American dollar.

In this country there was a slackening of the downward trend in prices towards the end of winter, but since the pace has not again equalled that experienced last fall, the trend has lately been distinctly downwards. Last week, for example, Dun's reported three declines to one advance. It is entirely possible that the June averages will reveal a rather substantial decrease.

Quite a number of authorities lean to the view that the price level will not go appreciably lower during the second half of this year. Indeed, they expect the level to remain for quite some time at about 50 per cent above the 1914 figures.

My own opinion is that the readjustments which remain to be made in various important industries will more than offset the moderate recoveries which we can logically expect in quite a few directions. For example, the metal division may show some slight recovery in copper, lead and tin, but further declines in steel and steel products are already clearly within sight.

Wool and cotton may conceivably be somewhat better, but grain prices are more likely to ease off as the world's new crops become available.

Also both sugar and coffee are selling lower than at anytime they are both in superabundant supply and sugar is still 75 per cent above its low figure for 1914.

Packing products at wholesale are low today and may recover appreciably should credit facilities make foreign buying possible on a considerable scale.

Building materials, on the other hand, are still relatively dear, and likely to become cheaper.

Insurance is heading downwards rather than upwards.

So are shoes at retail, although the shoe market is doubtless over its worst.

Agricultural machinery is scheduled for price cutting, and farm implements, automobiles, motor trucks have been trending lower, without any guaranty that the bottom has been reached.

Wages are of course, an important factor in influencing price movements. Inasmuch as wages are still gravitating towards lower levels, with an accompanying increase in efficiency, production costs are falling in many directions. This must be given due consideration in trying to analyze the probable trend of the price average. So, too, must the steady contraction in the volume of currency and credit outstanding.

Instead of prices remaining almost 50 per cent above those ruling in 1914, I look for further sagging. It would not be illogical if the present trend continued until we were not much more than 25 per cent above 1914.

Bradstreet's index, which represents chiefly raw materials, now stands only 15 per cent above the 1914 average. Dun's index is now 17 per cent above the pre-war figure, but the Bureau of Labor's index is still fully 50 per cent higher than in 1913.

In the interest of business recuperation, the best thing that could happen would be immediate improvement in prices which are distinctly under cost of production and prompt reductions in industries which are still demanding prices out of line with present day conditions. Leaders in industries which are delaying inevitable price reductions are retarding the return of activity and prosperity.

Those of us who are classed as consumers can now feel safe in resuming normal buying of a great many of the things we need. If we open up and buy normal amounts of goods we know are now attractively priced and steer clear of the things that are still too dear, we can quickly bring home to the price people that they are on the wrong track.

SHORT SHAVINGS

"Do I understand your husband assaulted you?" asked the London magistrate of the much-damaged lady who made application for a summons.

"E did that, sir," she replied, with emphasis. "Bashed me over the head wiv a mottor, 'e did!"

"With a what?" queried the magistrate.

"A mottor, yer worship. One of them fugs what you 'angs on the wall wiv a frame rahnd it and 'Bless Our 'Appy 'Ome' in the middle."

A clergyman who had been a missionary in China eventually took up his residence in Berkeley, Cal.

His friend and fellow missionary, Dr. Boone, returning on furlough, was expected to arrive in San Francisco on a certain day. Dr. Smith, the clergyman mentioned, crossed the bay to the city. He meant to find Dr. Boone and his party, and, after spending the day in sightseeing, to take dinner at a well-known cafe.

The steamship, however, had reached port earlier than had been expected, and when Dr. Smith got to the dock his friends had left. He made inquiries at the principal hotels, but could not find them. In order to notify his family in Berkeley of the necessary change in plans, Dr. Smith sent them a telegram. Here is the somewhat damaged message that Mrs. Smith finally read:

"Can't find the bones Will come home to dinner"

The dog stole cautiously into the butcher's shop and bolted with a large piece of meat. The butcher raged.

"It that your dog?" he roared at the man passing by.

"Well," replied the man, "he was my dog once, but he seems to be doing for himself now."

USE SALTS?

Yes, if it's the "Ambition" Brand

Don't use the harsh, unpleasant, old-fashioned salts that's a punishment to your palate and stomach to take. Use WENDELL SALTS AMBITION BRAND—the new, pleasant, effervescent preparation that tastes so good and acts so quickly. Help drive the dangerous uric acid poison out of your system and you'll feel better.

Go to Enterprise Drug Co. today and get a big bottle of WENDELL SALTS AMBITION BRAND, for sixty cents. If it doesn't do all we claim for it your money back on the first bottle purchased. Try it for indigestion, Bloating, Headache, Constipation, Gout and Torpid Liver.—Adv.
